Civil War Threatens Algeria As Ben Bella's Troops Move

Geneva Talks End

President, Rusk Draft Next Move On Berlin Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk face today the task of mapping a new move in the diplomatic dispute with the Soviet Union over Berlin.

Rusk returned Wednesday night from Geneva and a new round of meetings with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. He was expected to tell Kennedy that the Soviet attitude on Berlin seems to be toughening but that there is no indication of imminent crisis.

During the next few days Kennedy, Rusk and other administration policymakers will be occupied with another issue of great urgency—deciding what new proposals the United States may make for reducing inspection requirements for a nuclear test ban treaty with the Soviet Union.

Rusk and other Cabinet members meet today for a discussion of this problem based on new scientific information recently announced by the Defense Department.

In London, British officials said Wednesday that the new proposals will be presented to the Geneva Disarmament Conference within two weeks. U.S. officials thought the action might be taken even more quickly.

Meanwhile, the U.S. disarmament chief, William C. Foster, discussed atomic test-ban safeguards at a closed session of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee. The chairman, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., reported that Foster had said the United States has not yet decided whether to modify the safeguard proposals and still believes on-the-spot inspections are needed to prevent cheating.

And, in another nuclear development, the U.S. government kept a secrecy curtain around a U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey report on a French atomic explosion in the Sahara Desert May 1. The report contains technical data on detection of the distant blast, which bears on the current test-ban discussion.

Rusk flew to Geneva last week to sign accords on the neutralization of Laos. This provided the opportunity for the latest series of discussions with Gromyko on the Berlin dispute. Rusk is understood to have stressed heavily the U.S. position that withdrawal of American, British, and French forces from West Berlin as demanded by the Soviet Union is completely nonnegotiable.

Gromyko is understood to have argued that West Berlin constitutes a base for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and that Soviet security interests therefore are involved.

Rusk and Gromyko began the exploratory talks on Berlin in New York last September. There was then some hope that a formula might be found for East-West negotiations aimed at settling the Berlin problem.

Even before the latest talks at Geneva hopes of finding either a negotiation formula or some understanding on lesser issues had been dashed. The Rusk-Gromyko discussions in Geneva now seem to have confirmed this failure.

The prospect for progress in negotiations on a treaty to ban nuclear tests is equally unpromising. The United States is currently winding up a series of weapons tests over the Central Pacific, following the Soviet series last fall which ended a three-year moratorium on nuclear blasts. The Soviet government has announced that it plans a new round of tests and those are expected to begin at any time.

Soblen Fails In Court Bid For Release

New Plea Rejected For Convicted Spy By Panel In Britain

LONDON (AP) —The British Court of Appeal today rejected convicted spy Robert A. Soblen's plea he be set free in Britain.

Lawyers for the 61-year-old psychiatrist contended his detention in prison is unlawful and that he should be freed in Britain under a writ of habeas corpus.

The British government contested the appeal on the ground that Soblen—under sentence of life imprisonment in the United States as a Soviet spy—had entered the country illegally and should be expelled.

The hearing opened before three British judges shortly after the Israeli Interior Ministry in Jerusalem rejected Soblen's application to be admitted to Israel as an immigrant. Soblen's Israeli lawyer, Ari Ankorion, was expected to appeal the ministry's ruling to the Israeli Supreme Court.

Soblen, who has leukemia and reportedly has only a few months to live, jumped $100,000 bail in New York and fled to Israel late last month. He entered Israel on a dead brother's Canadian passport and the Israeli government expelled him July 1 as an illegal immigrant.

He was put aboard an El Al Israeli airliner for New York. He slashed a wrist and plunged a knife into his abdomen.

He was removed from the plane in London and hospitalized. He is now almost recovered from his wounds.

Soblen cabled Ankorion to try again to get permission for him to enter Israel under the 1952 Law of Return which allows most Jews to claim a home in Israel.

Soblen also applied for political asylum in Britain.

Ben Khedda Makes Plea For Unity

'Autonomous Zone' Forces Alerted On Approaches To City

ALGIERS (AP) — Algiers and the mountain region of Kabylie prepared today to resist the victorious advance of troops of dissident Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

After 7½ years of rebellion against France and three weeks of independence, the new nation of Algeria found itself on the threshold of civil war.

Soldiers of the Algiers "autonomous zone" took up positions late Wednesday night on the approaches to the white-walled city. From the Moorish-style summer palace Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda warned that the danger of civil war was real and pleaded for unity.

A group of ministers of Ben Khedda's government quit the capital and set up headquarters in the Kabylie Mountains, 65 miles east of Algiers, amid loyal Berber guerrillas of Wilaya (zone) No. 3. They called on the population and on the guerrillas who fought for independence to organize resistance to Ben Bella "in every town, village and hamlet."

Regular army troops and guerrillas loyal to Ben Bella appeared to control three-fourths of the country, with Kabylie and Algiers the only centers of organized resistance to the dissident deputy premier. Ben Bella claimed his forces had won power over the country.

Shots rang out and blood flowed Wednesday in the east Algerian capital of Constantine when troops loyal to Ben Khedda tried to resist the takeover of the city by the opposing faction.

By nightfall Wednesday, Constantine and the Mediterranean seaport of Bone were in the hands of Ben Bella troops who moved in from the Tunisian frontier region. There was no resistance in

Boy, 15, Nabbed For $60 Stickup

A 15-year-old boy was taken into custody late Wednesday afternoon by police, accused of the armed robbery of a Dresden Ave. service station Saturday morning in which $60 was taken.

Police identified the suspect as James E. Everhart, 800 Dresden Ave., and said the boy has confessed that he fabricated a tale of being robbed of $31 himself Sunday afternoon on E. 4th St.

EVERHART was booked about 5 p. m. yesterday by Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Patrolman Kenneth Mooney. Officers said Everhart has been identified as the stickup man by Gary Champ, 22, of 1012 Dresden Ave., attendant at the Standard Oil Co. station at Dresden Ave. and Webber Way.

Ironically, Everhart's home is about a block from the robbed station.

Chief Americo J. Radeschi, suspecting the youth of the holdup, said he instructed Capt. Pyle and Officer Mooney to bring Everhart to the station in an attempt to have him identified by Champ.

Champ identified the youth, who then confessed to the holdup, the chief said. He said he suspected a connection between Everhart's story of being robbed Sunday and the station stickup, particularly because the Everhart boy has a speech impediment, matching part of the bandit's description.

Chief Radeschi said he will get in touch with Judge Louis Tobin to arrange the boy's appearance in Juvenile Court.

In the stickup Saturday at 6:45 a. m., the bandit first menaced Champ with a .22-caliber rifle and ordered him to toss the station receipts, his coin changer and his wallet onto the floor. After Champ complied, he told police, the robber ordered him into the station's back room.

Champ told police he feared the stickup man meant to shoot him, so he edged closer to the youth, talking all the while. He said he managed to grab the rifle barrel and shove the weapon to one side just as it discharged.

THE ROBBER the bolted outdoors with Champ in pursuit. Champ said he caught the bandit about 10 feet outside the station, hurled him to the ground and subdued him. But the bandit pulled a pistol from his clothing, men-

Labor Peace Now Eyed On Third Airline

Labor Department Officials Meet With Eastern President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of Eastern Air Lines, its flight engineers and its pilots meet here today with Labor Department officials in an attempt to bring labor peace to a third major airline.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said Wednesday that Eastern's president, Malcolm MacIntyre, would attend the afternoon meeting.

Goldberg was expected to propose again the same settlement terms which MacIntyre rejected and the engineers accepted earlier this week. These terms led to settlement Wednesday of the dispute between Pan American World Airways and the Flight Engineers International Association —pending approval of Pan Am's pilots.

Earlier, engineers working for Trans World Airlines had accepted similar terms for solving the main problem in all three disputes—whether pilots or engineers will get first crack at the third seat in the cockpit when the airlines reduce jet crews from four to three men. The move is expected soon.

In general, the Pan American and two settlements give currently employed engineers priority. But as attrition wears away their ranks, pilots also will become eligible. The engineers agreed to take pilot training.

The second part of Goldberg's proposal called for binding arbitration of all economic issues. MacIntyre contended the Eastern strike, now in its 34th day, made it impossible for the company to accept arbitration of such items as pay scales and retroactivity of increases.

Chester Area Farm Scene Of 2nd Wreck

Tuesday, a big rig upset in the pond of his farm on Route 30 about four miles east of Chester and Wednesday night another jack-knifed into the property.

A 1959 tractor - trailer damaged a utility pole and a Rock Springs Park sign on the farm when it jack - knifed about 10:30 last night.

Jerome Pierce Pardeaux, 23, of Lorain was unhurt but was fined $10 and costs by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland on a charge of failure to have his vehicle under control.

He was cited by Hancock County sheriff deputies.

Deputies reported the truck as going west and the driver said he was descending the hill in low gear when the trailer began whipping but it jack-knifed, crossed the road and headed in the opposite direction.

Damage has been estimated at $5,000 to a rig that rolled backwards and upset in the pond Tuesday at 9:45 a. m., sheriff's deputies reported.

The 1961 model White tractor was towing a tank filled with cement when it rolled over an embankment and into the pond. Theodore S. Vanord, 45, of Canton, the driver, was maneuvering the disabled rig off the highway after an air line had snapped.

Deputies also reported $40 damage to a barbed wire fence through which the rig rolled. Vanord escaped unhurt.

Thunderstorm Brings Over Half-Inch Rain

The Tri-State District got over half an inch of much-needed rain Wednesday night when a solid thunderstorm front moved east, tumbling temperatures.

The Stratton Dam reported 0.64 inch of precipitation, helping make up part of the deficit of rain for July, marked by drought conditions.

Flaming Liquid Sweeps Village

BERLIN, N.Y. (AP) — At 5:30 p.m. in the picturesque hamlet of Berlin in eastern New York, dinner was on the stove, the men were returning from work, and Gene Merrills was standing beside a barn.

"God, it was like a clap of thunder. A bomb. Everything lit up red," Merrills said.

A load of propane gas on a tractor-trailer exploded Wednesday, spurting the flaming liquid as far as a half-mile within this community of 400. The truck driver was injured fatally and 16 men, women and children were hospitalized. Ten of them remained in critical condition today.

In addition, a woman who had to flee from her home, which was scorched by the fire, died of a heart attack early today in the home of a son here. She was Mrs. Mabel H. Wager, 77.

A dozen homes and the 179-year-old Baptist church were in ruins.

Thunderheads were gathering in the sky as Robert J. McLucas, 39, of Pomeroy, Pa., took his big truck down the twisting two-mile hill leading into this community folded into a valley between the Grafton Mountains and the Berkshires near the intersection of the New York-Massachusetts-Vermont state lines. At some point, the brakes apparently failed, State Police said, and McLucas leaned on his horn in warning as the vehicle picked up speed. Some witnesses said the brakes appeared to be on fire.

About 50 yards from the village square with its Civil War statue, the truck reached a turn near the bottom of the hill. It jackknifed, the trailer broke off.

"There was a pause, then a pop, then a blam. The flames must have gone 150 to 200 feet in the air bright orange." That was the account of Holden Gutermuth, 24, who witnessed it from a field.

McLucas was blown 350 feet. He died about two hours later.

Postmaster Robert Moses was closing up for the day. He looked at the house he had built himself. "It was terrible. It was a mass of fire." His wife was inside.

Held back by the searing heat, Moses watched as his wife crawled into the breezeway, then through the garage, over the car and through a window.

She was critically burned.

Three homes were enveloped immediately in flames and hunks

A 15-year-old Wellsville area boy, critically injured in a one-car mishap near the No. 16 School July 17, died this morning at 3 at Children's Hospital at Pittsburgh, where he was transferred Wednesday.

David Keith Eastham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Eastham of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, had suffered skull injuries, fractures of the arm and multiple lacerations in the mishap which also injured his brother, Austin, 18.

The older youth was released earlier from City Hospital.

The two youths were driving on the No. 16 School Rd. near Wellsville about 1 a. m. when the car swerved off a curve and struck an embankment.

The older brother managed to walk to a nearby home to summon aid for himself and his brother, who was lying in the road when officers arrived.

Police Vehicle Kills Autoist

Chief At Wheel As Cruiser Rams Auto

ROCHESTER — A Rochester Township police car, apparently chasing a speeder, dashed through a red light Wednesday night and plowed broadside into a car coming through the intersection, killing its driver, George J. Hickey, 57, of Glen Eden Rd., New Sewickley Township.

The accident occurred about 6:50 p. m. at the busy intersection of Virginia Ave. and Deer Ln. on the boundary line between Rochester Borough and Rochester Township. Mr. Hickey died about an hour later at Rochester General Hospital.

There were several witnesses to the accident. Zarilla was traveling south toward the river with his siren sounding and red light on, chasing a black Ford pickup truck.

Mr. Hickey was traveling east toward his home. According to witnesses, he was almost stopped and had the green light when his car was hit broadside. The impact knocked him through the opposite door of his car onto the sidewalk.

His car hit a telephone pole on the southeast corner then spun around heading northwest at full acceleration and slammed over a curb and embankment into a porch, damaging it.

Zarilla was able to walk and went over to the motorist.

'Fabrication And A Lie'

Hoffa Directs Challenge At McClellan On Charges

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa has challenged Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., to repeat outside Senate immunity statements made about him in a Senate investigating subcommittee report.

The subcommittee, of which McClellan is chairman, described Hoffa in the report Wednesday as showing a callous disregard of whether his own union members were robbed by their officers.

Hoffa, here for an Ohio Teamsters conference, said Wednesday night the report "is a complete fabrication and a lie." He labelled McClellan as anti-labor.

Hoffa challenged McClellan to make the statements outside of Senate immunity and said, "and when I sue him, I wonder if he'll take the Fifth Amendment again like he did in Florida."

The Teamsters president previously had accused McClellan of hiding behind Senatorial immunity to avoid testifying at a hearing in Florida on a mail fraud case which Hoffa said amounted to invoking the Fifth Amendment.

The subcommittee's report to the Senate Wednesday said that "Hoffa's attitude was one of defiant indifference to the interests of the rank-and-file members of Local 239 whose treasury was being exploited and misused by corrupt and dishonest officials."

'Skirmishes' Also Planned

Motorcade Will Retrace Route Gen. Morgan Took

Two mock skirmishes and retracing of the 1863 route of Confederate Gen. John Morgan's raiders in Columbiana County will mark the 99th anniversary observance to be conducted Sunday.

A sizable turnout for a motorcade tour of the route is expected, according to Ed Pugh of Wellsville, district historian in charge of the event.

About 30 horsemen from the Tri-State Boot and Saddle Club, the Mahoning County Sheriff's Posse and Carrollton riders will serve as "cavalry" for the day's observance, set to begin at 9:30 with the horse unit leaving West Grove Cemetery near Monroeville.

The horsemen are scheduled to arrive at the Bethesda Presbyterian Church near Millport about 12:30 p. m., Pugh said.

The public is invited to bring a picnic lunch and view the "troops" at the Bethesda church.

A motorcade will then be formed to travel Route 644 to Salineville then to Monroeville and to the Martin Adams farm where a sham battle will be fought by the 19th Ohio Volunteer Infantry Regiment's members from the Alliance area, and the Salem Guards and newly reactivated 104th of local men, headed by

Pedestrian, 17, Hurt In Diamond Accident

A visitor from Clay County, W. Va., escaped with minor injuries Wednesday night at 10:14 when bumped by an auto as he crossed the Diamond, police reported.

Austin Sizmore, 17, of Bentree was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of the right thigh following a mishap at Diamond Alley with a 1962 convertible operated by James H. Pollock, 674 Lincoln Ave., police said. Sizmore is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Ethel Thomas, 720 St. Clair Ave.

Sizmore was crossing the Diamond from east to west at Diamond Alley and Pollock was driving north about 5 miles an hour, officers said.

At some point, the brakes apparently failed, State Police said, and McLucas leaned on his horn in warning as the vehicle picked up speed. Some witnesses said the brakes appeared to be on fire.

About 50 yards from the village square with its Civil War statue, the truck reached a turn near the bottom of the hill. It jackknifed, the trailer broke off.

"There was a pause, then a pop, then a blam. The flames must have gone 150 to 200 feet in the air bright orange." That was the account of Holden Gutermuth, 24, who witnessed it from a field.

McLucas was blown 350 feet. He died about two hours later.

Postmaster Robert Moses was closing up for the day. He looked at the house he had built himself. "It was terrible. It was a mass of fire." His wife was inside.

Held back by the searing heat, Moses watched as his wife crawled into the breezeway, then through the garage, over the car and through a window.

She was critically burned.

Three homes were enveloped immediately in flames and hunks

A 15-year-old Wellsville area boy, critically injured in a one-car mishap near the No. 16 School July 17, died this morning at 3 at Children's Hospital at Pittsburgh, where he was transferred Wednesday.

David Keith Eastham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Eastham of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, had suffered skull injuries, fractures of the arm and multiple lacerations in the mishap which also injured his brother, Austin, 18.

The older youth was released earlier from City Hospital.

The two youths were driving on the No. 16 School Rd. near Wellsville about 1 a. m. when the car swerved off a curve and struck an embankment.

The older brother managed to walk to a nearby home to summon aid for himself and his brother, who was lying in the road when officers arrived.

Police Vehicle Kills Autoist

Chief At Wheel As Cruiser Rams Auto

ROCHESTER — A Rochester Township police car, apparently chasing a speeder, dashed through a red light Wednesday night and plowed broadside into a car coming through the intersection, killing its driver, George J. Hickey, 57, of Glen Eden Rd., New Sewickley Township.

The accident occurred about 6:50 p. m. at the busy intersection of Virginia Ave. and Deer Ln. on the boundary line between Rochester Borough and Rochester Township. Mr. Hickey died about an hour later at Rochester General Hospital.

There were several witnesses to the accident. Zarilla was traveling south toward the river with his siren sounding and red light on, chasing a black Ford pickup truck.

Mr. Hickey was traveling east toward his home. According to witnesses, he was almost stopped and had the green light when his car was hit broadside. The impact knocked him through the opposite door of his car onto the sidewalk.

His car hit a telephone pole on the southeast corner then spun around heading northwest at full acceleration and slammed over a curb and embankment into a porch, damaging it.

Zarilla was able to walk and went over to the motorist.

Hoffa Directs Challenge At McClellan On Charges

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa has challenged Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., to repeat outside Senate immunity statements made about him in a Senate investigating subcommittee report.

The subcommittee, of which McClellan is chairman, described Hoffa in the report Wednesday as showing a callous disregard of whether his own union members were robbed by their officers.

Hoffa, here for an Ohio Teamsters conference, said Wednesday night the report "is a complete fabrication and a lie." He labelled McClellan as anti-labor.

Hoffa challenged McClellan to make the statements outside of Senate immunity and said, "and when I sue him, I wonder if he'll take the Fifth Amendment again like he did in Florida."

The Teamsters president previously had accused McClellan of hiding behind Senatorial immunity to avoid testifying at a hearing in Florida on a mail fraud case which Hoffa said amounted to invoking the Fifth Amendment.

The subcommittee's report to the Senate Wednesday said that "Hoffa's attitude was one of defiant indifference to the interests of the rank-and-file members of Local 239 whose treasury was being exploited and misused by corrupt and dishonest officials."

'Skirmishes' Also Planned

Motorcade Will Retrace Route Gen. Morgan Took

Two mock skirmishes and retracing of the 1863 route of Confederate Gen. John Morgan's raiders in Columbiana County will mark the 99th anniversary observance to be conducted Sunday.

A sizable turnout for a motorcade tour of the route is expected, according to Ed Pugh of Wellsville, district historian in charge of the event.

About 30 horsemen from the Tri-State Boot and Saddle Club, the Mahoning County Sheriff's Posse and Carrollton riders will serve as "cavalry" for the day's observance, set to begin at 9:30 with the horse unit leaving West Grove Cemetery near Monroeville.

The horsemen are scheduled to arrive at the Bethesda Presbyterian Church near Millport about 12:30 p. m., Pugh said.

The public is invited to bring a picnic lunch and view the "troops" at the Bethesda church.

A motorcade will then be formed to travel Route 644 to Salineville then to Monroeville and to the Martin Adams farm where a sham battle will be fought by the 19th Ohio Volunteer Infantry Regiment's members from the Alliance area, and the Salem Guards and newly reactivated 104th of local men, headed by

Pedestrian, 17, Hurt In Diamond Accident

A visitor from Clay County, W. Va., escaped with minor injuries Wednesday night at 10:14 when bumped by an auto as he crossed the Diamond, police reported.

Austin Sizmore, 17, of Bentree was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of the right thigh following a mishap at Diamond Alley with a 1962 convertible operated by James H. Pollock, 674 Lincoln Ave., police said. Sizmore is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Ethel Thomas, 720 St. Clair Ave.

Sizmore was crossing the Diamond from east to west at Diamond Alley and Pollock was driving north about 5 miles an hour, officers said.

Businessmen Set Varied Aims In Field Of Politics

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "When a corporation seeks to insert itself into politics, it does so for only one reason—because it has an ax to grind. The ax is the wish to advance the business ideology of the corporation."

A labor union leader speaking? No; part of a speech by Chicago industrialist Arnold H. Maremont to the Association of Industrial Editors.

It illustrates the different opinions to be found in the business community on the subject of the businessman in politics movement.

Ever since the price battle between steel and President Kennedy, business leaders, some privately and others in public, have suggested that business could make its views effective only through political efforts.

Recently former President Dwight D. Eisenhower called on businessmen to become active in politics.

Even before the steel price clash, a businessman-in-politics movement had been under way. Additionally, many corporations had, and have, been conducting public affairs programs of a political nature. Its spokesmen claim they are non-partisan.

A leader in the business-in-politics movement was asked recently if it aimed to balance gains in political influence made by unions, especially through labor's Committee for Political Education (COPE).

"There's nothing anti-union about this," replied Charles R. Barr, assistant to the president of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and board chairman of the Effective Citizens Organization.

The citizens organization, a non-profit corporation, with about 130 corporate members, is a leading agency dedicated to spreading the gospel of a more active role by business in public affairs.

"I think it was stimulated by the fact that the unions got in first and were so successful. I'd give the unions considerable credit for leading the way," Barr said.

Standard Oil conducts a low-key public affairs effort, occasionally reminding employes of their citizenship obligations—and that's about all. It goes easy on political education.

Generally, Barr said, companies are too reticent in talking to employes about issues, out of fear workers will interpret it as corporate ax-grinding.

Inland Steel Co. is proud of its public affairs record, particularly in Chicago and neighboring communities. Joseph L. Block, chairman, last year won the Loyola University Damen Award in this field.

As a company, Inland formally backed a Fair Employment Practices Commission in Illinois, and its executives helped obtain enactment of a fair employment law in 1961. The proposal had failed repeatedly in earlier legislative sessions after being fought by much of Illinois industry.

In the interests of the best work force possible, Inland said, no worker should be turned down or held back "because of race, color, creed, age or other artificial barrier."

Inland welcomes Republican and Democratic candidates for major offices to its headquarters every campaign year. The office seekers separately eat lunch with top executives, and then are given about 30 minutes each to speak to a bigger audience in the employes' cafeteria.

Water Break Repair Poses New Problem

After nearly five days' work, city water department crews finally uncovered a break in a big main at the bottom of a 12-foot excavation directly underneath a huge brick and concrete storm sewer culvert, but the problem of repair still is awaiting a decision today.

Supt. Donald T. Duke explained there is a strong possibility the huge brick culvert would collapse on men attempting to remove a 12-foot section of 16-inch cast iron water pipe that must be replaced in the repair project in an unnamed alley just off Bradshaw Ave.

The water line crossed underneath the brick culvert at a slight angle. Rather than risk the chance of the excavation collapsing and the culvert giving way during work underneath, the water department may relocate about 150 feet of the main, Duke explained.

That method would accomplish two objectives — repair the break and relocate the water line from its awkward position below the culvert, Duke explained.

In the cramped quarters around the main, only one man could work at a time and the dirt would have to be handed to the surface in stages, which would make for a long, tedious and dangerous job for replacing the broken section, Duke pointed out.

When the break was uncovered yesterday, the crew found a gaping hole about three feet long, literally blown out of the side of the big pipe. In addition, the main is split in two directions with cracks running nearly its entire length, Duke said.

If the line is relocated, it will be placed on a level above the big culvert.

The break was discovered Saturday morning in an alley near the Winland Building, just off Bradshaw. The excavation was hampered by a maze of other utility lines, the culvert and a mass of fill from old potteries that once operated in the area.

The crew excavated through two street pavements, the present level and another about four feet below—the original paving.

The street's present pavement is concrete, brick and blacktop. Four feet below the surface, under a mass of fill, the crew found the original pavement, also of brick.

Water department crews are installing a new valve on the line today at Ravine St. The work will eliminate a flooding problem in the excavation, Duke said.

Originally, the broken main was believed to be 10-inch pipe. When uncovered yesterday, it was found to be a 16-inch pipe reduced down to 10-inch on either side.

Others treated Wednesday included Marion R. Coleman, 20, of Chester R. D. 1, an employe of the Kaul Tree Trimming Co. of Canton who suffered contusions of the right shoulder when hit while at work cutting trees. He was X-rayed, treated and released.

Carl Touvelle, 31, of 1023 Hazel St., was X-rayed and treated for an injury of the right shoulder after he fell seven or eight feet from a ladder while painting his house.

Willis Stewart, 61, of 263 Haywood St., suffered a laceration of his right leg and small abrasions of the right lower arm on a saw while cutting lumber. He was treated and released.

Robert Hupp, 14, son of Edward Hupp, 601 Harrison St., Newell, was treated for a foot laceration received on glass in a creek.

'Glad To See Him Leave,' Junta Says Of U.S. Aide

LIMA, Peru (AP)—U.S. Ambassador James Loeb took off for Washington today to report on the military seizure of power, and the junta made it clear it was glad to see him leave Peru.

A statement labeled semi-official but emanating from the foreign ministry said Loeb's departure would tend to ease "existing tension between the two countries." It accused him of helping to create "a climate of misunderstanding in Washington," which cut off aid to Peru after the military's coup last week.

Asked about the charges, Loeb told newsmen at the airport, "I have heard about the statement and the foreign ministry will deny it." He said he hoped to return to Lima after he reports personally to President Kennedy.

Police Wednesday night broke up a demonstration of 500 students protesting the overthrow of President Manuel Prado and shouting "down with dictatorship." The rally was addressed by speakers identified as members of the leftist, but anti-Communist, American Popular Revolutionary Alliance.

In Caracas, the Venezuelan foreign ministry said eight nations out of a required 11 have now asked for a hemisphere meeting of foreign ministers to protest the coup in Peru. The ministry said Ecuador and Salvador have joined Venezuela, Colombia, Costa Rica, Honduras, Panama and the Dominican Republic in demands for the meeting. It added that Guatemala was seriously studying the proposal.

In Rio de Janeiro, however, a spokesman for the Brazilian foreign ministry said Brazil opposes the hemispheric meeting because it would smack of intervention in Peruvian affairs.

The semi-official statement on Loeb said, in part:

"It is believed that the U.S. diplomat has, without regard to his specific mission, made incursions in the field of internal politics, showing clear predilection for one of the presidential candidates."

Air Patrol May Purchase Plane

The possibility of purchasing an airplane was discussed by the senior members at a meeting of the area Civil Air Patrol unit Wednesday night at Daw Junior High School in Wellsville.

Seven cadets, three seniors, Warrant Officer Gus Lardis of Steubenville and Maj. O. K. Brown of Alliance attended.

A test was given on the booklet "Power for Aircraft." All received passing grades. Equipment needed for the summer encampment Aug. 18-26 was listed and those attending were given details of conduct for guard duty.

The sale of fire extinguishers will continue for another week. A car wash will be held Saturday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. at 8th St. and Riverside Ave., Wellsville.

A drill will be held next Wednesday at 6 p. m. followed by a business session at 7 at the school.

Lightning Hits Parma District, Injures Man

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lightning in a solid line of thunderstorms injured one man and set fire to a home in suburban Parma late Wednesday.

The lightning was described by veteran U.S. Weather Bureau forecaster Bob Paddock as "the most severe I have ever seen."

A bolt struck Napoleon Hampton, 65, as he was getting into his car in Gordon Park. He was knocked out, but he regained consciousness within a few minutes. Hampton was taken to Mount Sinai Hospital with second-degree burn of his upper back. His condition was fair.

Another bolt cracked through the side of a two-story frame home at Parma, causing a fire in an upstairs bedroom which did $1,200 damage.

In Canton, emergency generators were put into use when power to the Stark County jail failed because of the storm.

LISBON — John Snyder Jr., 39, of 281 Pine St. forfeited a $10 appearance bond Wednesday night in mayor's court following arrest by village police on a charge of ignoring the stop sign at W. Pine and Beaver Sts.

All The Statistical Evidence

F. W. Dodge Corp., which compiles national statistics on construction, reports that total awards through May this year were up 17 per cent from last year—a total of $17.2 billion—13 per cent higher than the previous five-month record recorded by Dodge Corp. in 1959.

Pointing to a "rampage of apartment building," the corporation describes the five-month record as "nothing short of phenomenal."

This is in contrast with some of the gloomy statistics that have been depressing the national spirit. It is a fair sample of what is to be expected in what some economists are beginning to suspect may be a statistical slump. Perhaps it is to be expected in an era of sophisticated electronic computation when even foreign policy is being suggested as a proper field for figure wizards.

SAM DAWSON, Associated Press business news analyst, points to further examples of spotty evidence on both sides of the boom-bust equation.

The automobile industry, usually thought of as a reliable indicator, is booming to the second best year in its history, second only to 1955. Twenty-five per cent more U.S.-made autos were sold the first six months this year than the first six months in 1961. On the other hand, housing starts began to slow down in June.

The composite economic picture, drawing on statistics showing employment, income, consumer spending and installment buying—was reassuring for the first six months, says analyst Dawson. Yet planners were issuing statements ranging from skeptical to morbid because they weren't satisfied with the rate of growth.

The political implication of their state of mind is far-reaching. They are suggesting a need for government intercession and chanting a dirge of gloom and doom to justify a credo that only political planners have enough know-how to save the nation. This is a warmed-over version of the New Frontier theme of the 1960 campaign.

Then as now the question is whether the country is sick enough to justify dosage by political medicine men, some of them not above making up symptoms to their own specifications.

ANOTHER NEW DEAL may be in the making. Statistics are better now than they were the first time. No one pays much attention now to freight car loadings. But freight car loadings or Gross National Product, which is the big thing now, the danger is the same.

A computer might slip a couple digits and the diagnosticians might jump to the conclusion that all is lost though the nation is as healthy as could be expected with so many pulse-takers hanging on its arm and hissing in its ear.

Spend And Cut And Elect

Whether the late Harry Hopkins said it or not, the advice he is supposed to have given the New Dealers was politically sound:

Spend and spend and elect and elect.

This was the formula that nailed down the big-city vote for the New Deal. It nailed down the farm vote, notably in 1948 when Harry Truman told the farmers they'd be ingrates if they didn't vote for him.

With it "spendocrats" made political history, proving the Founding Fathers were right when they feared greed would undermine the foundations of the republic if the people ever learned how to raid their own treasury.

THE FORMULA worked so well that to this day the Republicans find themselves campaigning on the same me-too theme used by Thomas E. Dewey in his two unsuccessful campaigns. They too spend and spend in quest of votes.

It is likely to be this way if the Kennedy administration institutes a tax cut in 1962. There will be no party-line division. Republicans will approve of tax-cutting as heartily as Democrats.

There will even be an improvement in the Hopkins spend-and-elect formula. The new prescription will be spend-cut-and-elect.

Few people in political circles will point to the mental dishonesty and the fiscal absurdity of cutting taxes with no corresponding reductions of federal spending.

A FEW, however, will put integrity ahead of expediency.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri and Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, both Republicans, have said it is foolish to think about tax cuts without reductions in spending.

G. Keith Funston president of the New York Stock Exchange, has pointed to the same folly. He admits a tax cut would stimulate the economy but insists it would be unwise unless accompanied by a decrease in the spending rate.

Spend and spend, and cut and cut and elect and elect. . .

With strong bipartisan support it should be able to wreck the country if it ever gets loose.

Back Up The Industry's Appeal

Facts and figures again have been laid before the U.S. Tariff Commission on behalf of the pottery industry in its years-long battle for increased protection against imports.

The appeal came from representatives of the U.S. Potters Association, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the American Fine China Guild.

Protection is being asked under the escape clause" of the present tariff act, with the commission being called on to "establish an absolute quota on an annual basis, allocated among foreign countries, or a withdrawal of all concessions and imposition of duties at a rate 50 per cent higher than the 1934 level.

The voice of the pottery industry is small in comparison with those on the free trade side of the fence. Therefore, the more who rally to the banner of increased protection the greater the hope of some action in that direction.

A flood of letters from the grass might carry some weight. Expressions from the workers themslves could help to back up the appeal made Wednesday.

Write the Tariff Commission at Washington today and explain in your own sincere words the need for protection.

Bits And Pieces

By Truman Twill

Coming to the end of a series about our journey to Oxford via Paris, London, Edinburgh, York, Bath, Liverpool, Coventry, Stratford on Avon, the Cotswold Hills, the Cheviot Hills, Hork, Greenwich, Salisburg, Tantagel Head, Wells, Ross on Wye, Ludlow, Wenlock Edge, Windermere, the Pennine Hills, Kerby, Leicester and 100 more memorable places.

There's a town of Cam whose bridge is called the Cam Bridge and that's how they got started on the name Cambridge.

British automobile clubs—two operate nationwide—maintain uniformed patrol service men to help members in trouble and a network of roadside booths with reserve supplies of petrol and a telephone. Only members have keys to the booths and over the years on theft of petrol have been reported.

When I visited the Daily Telegraph in London, circulation 1,230,000, my hosts was Arthur Travers, who talked about his sister in Akron. She sends him the Akron Beacon Journal so he can see what a U.S. paper looks like.

One inconvenience I had been prepared to cope with was weak coffee. But never was there a cup of weak coffee served to any of us in Britain, where the nearly universal use of instant coffee now makes the coffee over-stout, even for my black-coffee taste. Incidentally, if you want it with cream you ask for "white coffee."

Among Britons we saw, who may have been representative of a class that receives special care, we saw none of the dental neglect ordinarily ascribed to the British. On the contrary, we noticed many sets of extraordinarily attractive teeth.

Racial prejudice is not one of my shortcomings, but it was evident in London, where blacks are conspicuously numerous in the service trade and in Oxford, where they are conspicuously numerous as students, that the British long since learned that the world is dominated by nonwhites.

For a reason that eluded all of us, house trailers are known as "caravans."

In the Old Vic's presentation of "Julius Caesar," all the scenes were played out to the bitter end, until you began to hope the players would die soon so you could go home to bed.

One of our best stops was at Llangollen (Thlangolen) on the River Dee in Wales, at the Bridge End Hotel. It was Saturday night. The town gathered on the bridge to look at the Dee. The boys inspected the girls. The girls flirted. The oldsters watched the fun.

The Mersey Tunnel going into Liverpool is the only one we'd ever seen that divides under water at an intersection controlled by a traffic light—and what happens if you're in the wrong lane is best left to the imagination.

The bane of my culinary existence for three weeks was cucumbers, which turned up everywhere. Luckily, I was with three other people who can digest them.

For Americans cracking their knuckles about annexation I prescribe attention to Paris and London, where government is kept local for local affairs (the borough system) and becomes citywise only for things that can't be handled locally, the system used in Toronto.

Castles and cathedrals were WPA projects —the only way to give employment to artisians, architects, painters, sculptors, etc. They were paid for by the only people who possessed money—the clergy and monarchists.

My weight in Britain was 10 stones and 13, within a few ounces of what it is at home on the bathroom scales.

Unrest Behind The Berlin 'Wall'

By Victor Riesel

EAST BERLIN

This is being written at a corner table in the Budapest Cafe on Karl Marx Alee, formerly Stalin St. I have now crossed and recrossed the wall, which truly is two walls with barbed wire woven into "dragon's teeth" of steel in between.

Victor Riesel

I have run my finger along the five-foot thickness of concrete as hard and cold as the hearts of the men who put it there. My flesh crawled. My innards curdled as I walked freely in and out while gaunt, anguished faces of East Berliners watched from distant corners and from nearby windows.

This is the second time I walked through the checkpoint, the East German customs and the rain-drenched Unter den Linden. Then a taxi ride through the Marx Engels Platz to the "allee" of giant, patched - up apartment houses, a few casual turns around the central square, and my contact of last year was walking just as casually alongside me.

IT WAS HE of the locomotive works who told me last year that East Germany's food supply system and industrialism were cracking up and that Moscow soon would do something drastic.

That was two weeks before we were awakened one night and told that the Eastern sector had been cut off by a barbed wire fence.

It is he who told me this time of growing tensions and hatred amongst the people behind the wall and the subdued hysteria amongst the Communist (SED) party leadership — and my friend predicted an explosion of some sort.

For the East German government of Walter Ulbricht, first secretary of the Communist party, the shortage of manpower has become so critical that the East Zone imported Chinese laborers.

The Orientals came in from Albania, oddly enough, and from Czechoslovakia to work in the East German coal and newly-opened uranium pits.

THE CHINESE workers from Czechoslovakia were released by the Prague government because they were no longer needed at the Joachimsthal uranium deposits, where the fissionable ore has been running low. The surplus Chinese miners were sent on to East Germany.

Apparently Chairman Khrushchev built his own version of a Chinese Wall just a little too late. True, the flow of 25,000 refugees a month has sliced down to a trickle of 35 a week. But many of the skilled workers have gone, along with strong and youthful manpower.

I was, for example, told of the truly brutal speedup in the Brandenburg Steel Mill. There men are driven almost dawn to dusk to whip out their quotas.

There some 6,000 men are watched constantly by squads of guards.

The security forces are armed. They observe the work right on the mill floor. Not one of the 6,000 employes is ever out of sight of such a guard, not even in the washroom.

NOT FAR from where I now jot down this report there is the East Berlin Peoples Elektrokohle "enterprise." There, in the name of Lenin, squads of "activists" have led in a speedup almost twice that of last year. Men break under the 6-day double pace.

Yet the activists explain it all by saying that, "We want to increase the output of production during the same work time and for the same wages and by this peaceful action bridle the West German imperialists."

Actually the activists are merely a subcommittee of the Communist party unit at the plant. This was the lead-off operation for all East Berlin and East Germany.

Signs of the tensions which slowly are forcing the East Germans against the wall are the strikes flaring in state-owned factories and even on collective farms.

Workers have been ordered to work full time on many holidays without any overtime or holiday pay or commensurate time off.

NO MAN can change his job, or his residence, or make any move on the industrial or economic front without approval of some arrogant bureaucrat of the state planning committee. No man can go into private business.

Only 2 per cent of all commerce and industry in any one sector can be privately owned — and there is never a "vacancy."

This bitter unrest was acknowledged by Ulbricht some months ago when he told the East German Central Committee that "enemy elements" were attempting to influence the workers and have made much of "supply difficulties." This, he said was leading to a lack of "labor discipline."

Ulbricht also threatened brutal action against those who oppose building up of the state, which means any who might lead strikes or slowdowns.

Herr Ulbricht talked like a frightened man. He knows you can compress a people just so long and then wall or no wall — they will explode into angry spontaneously formed legions.

I will not cross this wall again. It hems you in — even when you know you're free to come out. Something happens to you inside, because you know how many imprisoned ones you've left behind as you stride back into freedom.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Donald Chambers of Pennsylvania Ave. and John Charlton of Thompson Ave. left for a two-week camping trip at Peace Valley Park, East Palestine.

Mrs. L. M. Williams of W. 3rd St. left for a vacation at White Brook Lodge in the Adirondack Mountains.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Joe M. Wells Jr. defeated Johnny Green, 3 and 2, in a sem-final match of the Hall Memorial golf tournament at the East Liverpool Country Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — James E. Pittenger, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pittenger of St. John St., was among Air Force ROTC cadets from Ohio University, Athens, who completed a month's summer encampment with the 516th Troop Carrier Wing at Memphis, Tenn.

Letter To Editor

I wish to express the reasons for my initial stand against the combination city - hall postal building issue. It is not that I do not feel that we could well use a combination building in our city. I feel that the cost of such a building at this time would bring upon the people an unnecessary burden of taxation.

I believe that at this time the present city building is serving the city of Wellsville adequately. I was not trying to deny the people the right to vote on this issue. As an elected servant of the people, my concern was for the people. For an example, the U. P. Church building at 5th and Main Sts. would cost the city $27,000. This would include the purchase of the building and reconstructing said building with parking lot on top and city garage underneath. The city would save $1,284 in annual rent. There is an expectation of the parking lot bringing an annual revenue of $1,000. But what about the empty parking meters on Main St.? Let us count the nickles in the present parking meters. I believe the expectation of the parking lot $1,000 annual revenue is a "big stab in the dark".

In my proposal to Council, the city could have a building for city garage purposes on city - owned ground at 1st St. for the amount of $6,880. This would save the city an annual rent of $1,284.

At this time I sincerely feel that more taxes would be a great burden to the people of Wellsville. My main interest is the "Best" and the "Most" and as "Inexpensive" as possible for the people of Wellsville.

Taylor's Status

By David Lawrence

Will There Be New Emphasis On Ground Forces?

Does President Kennedy's appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to be chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff represent a renewed emphasis on ground forces? This question is a vital one now as the far-reaching development of missiles and nuclear weapons seems to be bringing about a stalemate or balance or power so far as major wars are concerned.

David Lawrence

One school of thought nowadays assumes that local wars are to be the order of the day and that this phase of American defense policy has been neglected. Gen. Taylor holds that view. He has been intimately identified in recent months with the build-up of forces in Berlin and in dealing with the guerrilla warfare problem in Southeast Asia.

There are, however, fundamental differences of opinion as to what constitutes the safer strategy for the United States. The rivalry between the armed services has by no means been adjourned.

The Air Force and the Navy, whose chiefs differed vigorously with Gen. Taylor when he was chief of staff of the Army, are bound to resume their lively debate over the way the money provided for national defense shall be spent.

GEN. TAYLOR, like a good many other men of positive views in the armed services, has been a controversial figure. He voluntarily retired as chief of staff of the Army in 1959 after he found himself in a one-to-three position versus the heads of the Navy and the Air Force and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who repeatedly sided against him.

He felt that President Eisenhower, being an Army man, should have supported his views on building up conventional forces. After retiring, Gen. Taylor wrote a book, "The Uncertain Trumpet," which caused a lot of discussion as he reiterated the views he had unsuccessfully advocated in the meetings of the joint chiefs.

Mr. Kennedy was very much impressed with the book and used it as ammunition on the political stump in many campaign speeches. It was the basis on which the Democratic presidential nominee criticized President Eisenhower for having failed to increase and modernize conventional forces, for having relied too much on the "massive detergent" policy and for setting budget ceilings on national defense.

When Gen. Taylor was selected as personal adviser to President Kennedy shortly after the Cuban "invasion" fiasco, many high officers in the armed services were a bit perturbed.

SOME OF THEM felt that, since he was to be at the President's side constantly, it meant that the Joint Chiefs of Staff would be virtually subordinate to Gen. Taylor. For that reason, some of the top officers in the Navy and Air Force said this week that they feel it is much better for Gen. Taylor to have the full responsibility as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff than to be exercising influence on military matters at the White House as a personal assistant to the President.

The comment among various officers in the armed services is that Gen. Taylor was himself not a team player when he was a member of the joint chiefs. It is said that he didn't feel bound to support decisions with which he had disagreed. At the same time, some of these same officers recall that Gen. Taylor used to say that a chairman of the joint chiefs shouldn't be bossy or attempt to override his associates.

There is speculation now whether he will adopt the same view if he encounters differences of opinion among his fellow staff officers.

CONGRESS, of course, and particularly chairmen of the Military houses, will continue to show a sensitiveness to interservice conflicts and differences.

Gen. Taylor is no stranger to these committees, and some strong words of praise were spoken in his behalf on Capitol Hill the other day when he was appointed.

Incidentally, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, who was appointed to succeed Gen. Lauris Norstad at NATO, has passed the voluntary retirement age of 62. His departure will be mandatory next year when he is 64 unless Congress passes a special act to retain him in that post.

He is not unfamiliar with NATO, since, as chief of staff of the Army,he has had to deal with its problems. Also, in the 1940s he was instrumental in formulating the original plans for the NATO operation.

The big question mark, however, is whether Gen. Taylor's appointment as head of the joint chiefs means the beginning of an effort on his part, with the cooperation of Secretary of Defense McNamara and President Kennedy, to centralize control of the armed services.

In his book, he advocates that the Joint Chiefs of Staff be dissolved and replaced by a single defense chief of staff and an advisory board, with the service chiefs of staff operating their individual military services.

Disarmament Stalemate

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

After 15 years of talking, balking and squawking about disarmament, the result for the United States and Russia is still hash.

The nations seem to think this prolonged, fruitless and often tortured discussion is better than no discussion on the theory that so long as they're talking they're not fighting.

The trouble is that other events now unforeseen could put a critical end to this international gabbiness because, like the argument which began in a barroom and ended in a hospital, one thing led to another.

President Kennedy meets Friday with top advisers to see whether this country could soften its terms for a nuclear test ban treaty with Russia because it's a little easier now to detect a nuclear blast than it used to be.

Last fall the Russians broke a voluntary test ban and resumed testing. Not to be outdone, the United States some weeks ago resumed testing and is still at it. Now the Russians say they must have some more tests.

This week at Geneva Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko talked again about a Berlin settlement and again wound up with nothing to show except a repetition of their unbudging positions.

Yet there seems to be a feeling in the West that the Russians may soon create a new crisis over the German city which they literally split in half last August with a wall between East and West Berlin.

Premier Khrushchev has been on a get-the-boys-home kick, meaning he wants the Western powers to get their troops out of West Berlin. The American position can be summed up in two words: Fat chance.

Two American editors, who recently interviewed Khrushchev, trudged around West Berlin asking people how they felt about withdrawal of Western troops. Then they wrote Khrushchev a letter about it. They told him the people said no.

This isn't likely to influence the Russian but it is one more part of the long Berlin dialogue, a word, by the way, which is currently very popular in Washington and covers discussions on all kinds of things.

And while all this was going on there was another meeting in Geneva: This was the 17-nation disarmament conference, just as unproductive as anything else because the disputes which never get settled revolve around this: Inspection or no inspection.

The big nations which have been inhabiting the same planet for generations — and probably just because they have — don't trust one another.

None of them can feel particularly affronted by such mutual suspicions since there isn't one of the big nations whose own citizens trust the good sense and good intentions of one another. That's why they all have cops.

When it comes to something like agreement on disarmament and nuclear test bans the American position toward Russia is and always has been: Let us see to make sure.

In short, the United States insists, before there's any disarming, that the big powers should have teams of inspectors on each other's territory to be sure there's no cheating.

Bits And Pieces

By Truman Twill

Coming to the end of a series about our journey to Oxford via Paris, London, Edinburgh, York, Bath, Liverpool, Coventry, Stratford on Avon, the Cotswold Hills, the Cheviot Hills, Hork, Greenwich, Salisburg, Tantagel Head, Wells, Ross on Wye, Ludlow, Wenlock Edge, Windermere, the Pennine Hills, Kerby, Leiscester and 100 more memorable places.

There's a town of Cam whose bridge is called the Cam Bridge and that's how they got started on the name Cambridge.

British automobile clubs—two operate nationwide—maintain uniformed patrol service men to help members in trouble and a network of roadside booths with reserve supplies of petrol and a telephone. Only members have keys to the booths and over the years on theft of petrol have been reported.

When I visited the Daily Telegraph in London, circulation 1,230,000, my hosts was Arthur Travers, who talked about his sister in Akron. She sends him the Akron Beacon Journal so he can see what a U.S. paper looks like.

One inconvenience I had been prepared to cope with was weak coffee. But never was there a cup of weak coffee served to any of us in Britain, where the nearly universal use of instant coffee now makes the coffee over-stout, even for my black-coffee taste. Incidentally, if you want it with cream you ask for "white coffee."

Among Britons we saw, who may have been representative of a class that receives special care, we saw none of the dental neglect ordinarily ascribed to the British. On the contrary, we noticed many sets of extraordinarily attractive teeth.

Racial prejudice is not one of my shortcomings, but it was evident in London, where blacks are conspicuously numerous in the service trade and in Oxford, where they are conspicuously numerous as students, that the British long since learned that the world is dominated by nonwhites.

For a reason that eluded all of us, house trailers are known as "caravans."

In the Old Vic's presentation of "Julius Caesar," all the scenes were played out to the bitter end, until you began to hope the players would die soon so you could go home to bed.

One of our best stops was at Llangollen (Thlangolen) on the River Dee in Wales, at the Bridge End Hotel. It was Saturday night. The town gathered on the bridge to look at the Dee. The boys inspected the girls. The girls flirted. The oldsters watched the fun.

The Mersey Tunnel going into Liverpool is the only one we'd ever seen that divides under water at an intersection controlled by a traffic light—and what happens if you're in the wrong lane is best left to the imagination.

The bane of my culinary existence for three weeks was cucumbers, which turned up everywhere. Luckily, I was with three other people who can digest them.

For Americans cracking their knuckles about annexation I prescribe attention to Paris and London, where government is kept local for local affairs (the borough system) and becomes citywise only for things that can't be handled locally, the system used in Toronto.

Castles and cathedrals were WPA projects —the only way to give employment to artisians, architects, painters, sculptors, etc. They were paid for by the only people who possessed money—the clergy and monarchists.

My weight in Britain was 10 stones and 13, within a few ounces of what it is at home on the bathroom scales.

Unrest Behind The Berlin 'Wall'

By Victor Riesel

EAST BERLIN

This is being written at a corner table in the Budapest Cafe on Karl Marx Alee, formerly Stalin St. I have now crossed and recrossed the wall, which truly is two walls with barbed wire woven into "dragon's teeth" of steel in between.

Victor Riesel

I have run my finger along the five-foot thickness of concrete as hard and cold as the hearts of the men who put it there. My flesh crawled. My innards curdled as I walked freely in and out while gaunt, anguished faces of East Berliners watched from distant corners and from nearby windows.

This is the second time I walked through the checkpoint, the East German customs and the rain-drenched Unter den Linden. Then a taxi ride through the Marx Engels Platz to the "allee" of giant, patched - up apartment houses, a few casual turns around the central square, and my contact of last year was walking just as casually alongside me.

IT WAS HE of the locomotive works who told me last year that East Germany's food supply system and industrialism were cracking up and that Moscow soon would do something drastic.

That was two weeks before we were awakened one night and told that the Eastern sector had been cut off by a barbed wire fence.

It is he who told me this time of growing tensions and hatred amongst the people behind the wall and the subdued hysteria amongst the Communist (SED) party leadership — and my friend predicted an explosion of some sort.

For the East German government of Walter Ulbricht, first secretary of the Communist party, the shortage of manpower has become so critical that the East Zone imported Chinese laborers.

The Orientals came in from Albania, oddly enough, and from Czechoslovakia to work in the East German coal and newly-opened uranium pits.

THE CHINESE workers from Czechoslovakia were released by the Prague government because they were no longer needed at the Joachimsthal uranium deposits, where the fissionable ore has been running low. The surplus Chinese miners were sent on to East Germany.

Apparently Chairman Khrushchev built his own version of a Chinese Wall just a little too late. True, the flow of 25,000 refugees a month has sliced down to a trickle of 35 a week. But many of the skilled workers have gone, along with strong and youthful manpower.

I was, for example, told of the truly brutal speedup in the Brandenburg Steel Mill. There men are driven almost dawn to dusk to whip out their quotas.

There some 6,000 men are watched constantly by squads of guards.

The security forces are armed. They observe the work right on the mill floor. Not one of the 6,000 employes is ever out of sight of such a guard, not even in the washroom.

NOT FAR from where I now jot down this report there is the East Berlin Peoples Elektrokohle "enterprise." There, in the name of Lenin, squads of "activists" have led in a speedup almost twice that of last year. Men break under the 6-day double pace.

Yet the activists explain it all by saying that, "We want to increase the output of production during the same work time and for the same wages and by this peaceful action bridle the West German imperialists."

Actually the activists are merely a subcommittee of the Communist party unit at the plant. This was the lead-off operation for all East Berlin and East Germany.

Signs of the tensions which slowly are forcing the East Germans against the wall are the strikes flaring in state-owned factories and even on collective farms.

Workers have been ordered to work full time on many holidays without any overtime or holiday pay or commensurate time off.

NO MAN can change his job, or his residence, or make any move on the industrial or economic front without approval of some arrogant bureaucrat of the state planning committee. No man can go into private business.

Only 2 per cent of all commerce and industry in any one sector can be privately owned — and there is never a "vacancy."

This bitter unrest was acknowledged by Ulbricht some months ago when he told the East German Central Committee that "enemy elements" were attempting to influence the workers and have made much of "supply difficulties." This, he said was leading to a lack of "labor discipline."

Ulbricht also threatened brutal action against those who oppose building up of the state, which means any who might lead strikes or slowdowns.

Herr Ulbricht talked like a frightened man. He knows you can compress a people just so long and then wall or no wall — they will explode into angry spontaneously formed legions.

I will not cross this wall again. It hems you in — even when you know you're free to come out. Something happens to you inside, because you know how many imprisoned ones you've left behind as you stride back into freedom.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Donald Chambers of Pennsylvania Ave. and John Charlton of Thompson Ave. left for a two-week camping trip at Peace Valley Park, East Palestine.

Mrs. L. M. Williams of W. 3rd St. left for a vacation at White Brook Lodge in the Adirondack Mountains.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Joe M. Wells Jr. defeated Johnny Green, 3 and 2, in a sem-final match of the Hall Memorial golf tournament at the East Liverpool Country Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — James E. Pittenger, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pittenger of St. John St., was among Air Force ROTC cadets from Ohio University, Athens, who completed a month's summer encampment with the 516th Troop Carrier Wing at Memphis, Tenn.

Letter To Editor

I wish to express the reasons for my initial stand against the combination city - hall postal building issue. It is not that I do not feel that we could well use a combination building in our city. I feel that the cost of such a building at this time would bring upon the people an unnecessary burden of taxation.

I believe that at this time the present city building is serving the city of Wellsville adequately. I was not trying to deny the people the right to vote on this issue. As an elected servant of the people, my concern was for the people. For an example, the U. P. Church building at 5th and Main Sts. would cost the city $27,000. This would include the purchase of the building and reconstructing said building with parking lot on top and city garage underneath. The city would save $1,284 in annual rent. There is an expectation of the parking lot bringing an annual revenue of $1,000. But what about the empty parking meters on Main St.? Let us count the nickles in the present parking meters. I believe the expectation of the parking lot $1,000 annual revenue is a "big stab in the dark".

In my proposal to Council, the city could have a building for city garage purposes on city - owned ground at 1st St. for the amount of $6,880. This would save the city an annual rent of $1,284.

At this time I sincerely feel that more taxes would be a great burden to the people of Wellsville. My main interest is the "Best" and the "Most" and as "Inexpensive" as possible for the people of Wellsville.

Taylor's Status

By David Lawrence

Will There Be New Emphasis On Ground Forces?

Does President Kennedy's appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to be chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff represent a renewed emphasis on ground forces? This question is a vital one now as the far-reaching development of missiles and nuclear weapons seems to be bringing about a stalemate or balance or power so far as major wars are concerned.

David Lawrence

One school of thought nowadays assumes that local wars are to be the order of the day and that this phase of American defense policy has been neglected. Gen. Taylor holds that view. He has been intimately identified in recent months with the build-up of forces in Berlin and in dealing with the guerrilla warfare problem in Southeast Asia.

There are, however, fundamental differences of opinion as to what constitutes the safer strategy for the United States. The rivalry between the armed services has by no means been adjourned.

The Air Force and the Navy, whose chiefs differed vigorously with Gen. Taylor when he was chief of staff of the Army, are bound to resume their lively debate over the way the money provided for national defense shall be spent.

GEN. TAYLOR, like a good many other men of positive views in the armed services, has been a controversial figure. He voluntarily retired as chief of staff of the Army in 1959 after he found himself in a one-to-three position versus the heads of the Navy and the Air Force and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who repeatedly sided against him.

He felt that President Eisenhower, being an Army man, should have supported his views on building up conventional forces. After retiring, Gen. Taylor wrote a book, "The Uncertain Trumpet," which caused a lot of discussion as he reiterated the views he had unsuccessfully advocated in the meetings of the joint chiefs.

Mr. Kennedy was very much impressed with the book and used it as ammunition on the political stump in many campaign speeches. It was the basis on which the Democratic presidential nominee criticized President Eisenhower for having failed to increase and modernize conventional forces, for having relied too much on the "massive detergent" policy and for setting budget ceilings on national defense.

When Gen. Taylor was selected as personal adviser to President Kennedy shortly after the Cuban "invasion" fiasco, many high officers in the armed services were a bit perturbed.

SOME OF THEM felt that, since he was to be at the President's side constantly, it meant that the Joint Chiefs of Staff would be virtually subordinate to Gen. Taylor. For that reason, some of the top officers in the Navy and Air Force said this week that they feel it is much better for Gen. Taylor to have the full responsibility as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff than to be exercising influence on military matters at the White House as a personal assistant to the President.

The comment among various officers in the armed services is that Gen. Taylor was himself not a team player when he was a member of the joint chiefs. It is said that he didn't feel bound to support decisions with which he had disagreed. At the same time, some of these same officers recall that Gen. Taylor used to say that a chairman of the joint chiefs shouldn't be bossy or attempt to override his associates.

There is speculation now whether he will adopt the same view if he encounters differences of opinion among his fellow staff officers.

CONGRESS, of course, and particularly chairmen of the Military houses, will continue to show a sensitiveness to interservice conflicts and differences.

Gen. Taylor is no stranger to these committees, and some strong words of praise were spoken in his behalf on Capitol Hill the other day when he was appointed.

Incidentally, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, who was appointed to succeed Gen. Lauris Norstad at NATO, has passed the voluntary retirement age of 62. His departure will be mandatory next year when he is 64 unless Congress passes a special act to retain him in that post.

He is not unfamiliar with NATO, since, as chief of staff of the Army,he has had to deal with its problems. Also, in the 1940s he was instrumental in formulating the original plans for the NATO operation.

The big question mark, however, is whether Gen. Taylor's appointment as head of the joint chiefs means the beginning of an effort on his part, with the cooperation of Secretary of Defense McNamara and President Kennedy, to centralize control of the armed services.

In his book, he advocates that the Joint Chiefs of Staff be dissolved and replaced by a single defense chief of staff and an advisory board, with the service chiefs of staff operating their individual military services.

Disarmament Stalemate

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

After 15 years of talking, balking and squawking about disarmament, the result for the United States and Russia is still hash.

The nations seem to think this prolonged, fruitless and often tortured discussion is better than no discussion on the theory that so long as they're talking they're not fighting.

The trouble is that other events now unforeseen could put a critical end to this international gabbiness because, like the argument which began in a barroom and ended in a hospital, one thing led to another.

President Kennedy meets Friday with top advisers to see whether this country could soften its terms for a nuclear test ban treaty with Russia because it's a little easier now to detect a nuclear blast than it used to be.

Last fall the Russians broke a voluntary test ban and resumed testing. Not to be outdone, the United States some weeks ago resumed testing and is still at it. Now the Russians say they must have some more tests.

This week at Geneva Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko talked again about a Berlin settlement and again wound up with nothing to show except a repetition of their unbudging positions.

Yet there seems to be a feeling in the West that the Russians may soon create a new crisis over the German city which they literally split in half last August with a wall between East and West Berlin.

Premier Khrushchev has been on a get-the-boys-home kick, meaning he wants the Western powers to get their troops out of West Berlin. The American position can be summed up in two words: Fat chance.

Two American editors, who recently interviewed Khrushchev, trudged around West Berlin asking people how they felt about withdrawal of Western troops. Then they wrote Khrushchev a letter about it. They told him the people said no.

This isn't likely to influence the Russian but it is one more part of the long Berlin dialogue, a word, by the way, which is currently very popular in Washington and covers discussions on all kinds of things.

And while all this was going on there was another meeting in Geneva: This was the 17-nation disarmament conference, just as unproductive as anything else because the disputes which never get settled revolve around this: Inspection or no inspection.

The big nations which have been inhabiting the same planet for generations — and probably just because they have — don't trust one another.

None of them can feel particularly affronted by such mutual suspicions since there isn't one of the big nations whose own citizens trust the good sense and good intentions of one another. That's why they all have cops.

When it comes to something like agreement on disarmament and nuclear test bans the American position toward Russia is and always has been: Let us see to make sure.

In short, the United States insists, before there's any disarming, that the big powers should have teams of inspectors on each other's territory to be sure there's no cheating.

Woman Goes To Court In Fight For Abortion

MRS. FINKBINE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The pretty star of a children's television program filed suit Wednesday in the hope of gaining court permission to abort her three-month pregnancy.

Mrs. Robert L. Finkbine, 29, a Scottsdale, Ariz., resident, was listed as a complainant along with her husband and Good Samaritan Hospital.

Mrs. Finkbine is better known here as Sherri Chessen of station KTAR - TV's show, "Romper Room."

She discovered last week that a drug she had taken in the early stages of her pregnancy had been linked with the births of thousands of malformed babies around the world.

The suit, filed in Maricopa County Superior Court, stated "the total health of the plaintiff is such that the termination of her pregnancy is necessary for the preservation and saving of her life."

If the plaintiffs can prove this, an abortion would be legal. Arizona law allows abortion only when required to save the life of the prospective mother.

County Atty. Charles N. Ronan, Arizona Atty. Gen. Robert Pickrell and Judge R. C. Stanford said they would try to hold a hearing on the matter by Friday. Ronan and Pickrell are defendants.

Mrs. Finkbein said Wednesday she doesn't know how much more of the strain she can take.

"I'm right on the verge of breaking down," she said. "I don't think I could stand up another six months of wondering about the baby."

Mrs. Finkbine, married to a high school teacher, has four healthy children. Her name had been kept secret until filing of the suit made it a matter of public record.

It was only five days ago that she read a newspaper article telling of the effects of thalidomide on thousands of infants in Germany, England, Canada and Australia. Then she remembered she had taken some sleeping pills containing the drug. Her husband obtained the pills in Europe last year.

Thalidomide has been held responsible for causing malformations of babies born without arms or legs, or both. Never licensed for sale in the United States, it has been withdrawn from the market in Europe.

Aide Suspended From Union Post

CLEVELAND (AP) — Union sources report that Eugene Burns has been suspended from his post as secretary-treasurer of Plasterer. Local 80 of Greater Cleveland, AFL-CIO.

The action, reported Wednesday night, followed a four-month investigation of the local's affairs by the international union, which also ruled that Burns could not hold any office or committee job in the union for five years. He has been secretary-treasurer since 1952.

The local has been in voluntary trusteeship since March when some 200 members voted for that action pending the investigation's outcome. Jack Smith, international representative, reportedly has taken over the union's affairs. He was sent here after the local was alleged to have fallen more than $4,000 in debt in per capita dues to the international.

Burns submitted his resignation to the international the first week of July. In March he said the local's difficulties stemmed from a decline in membership from 750 to 400. Membership now is about 300.

The first woman graduate of a law school in the United States was Mrs. Ada H. Kepley, who was graduated from the Union College of Law, Chicago, in 1870.

Sea Scout Ship Elects Officers

George Stanley was accepted as a new member. Plans were made to obtain uniforms. The group also discussed the possibility of securing communications equipment.

Plans were outlined for a dance at the City Hall. Permission will be obtained from Chester Council.

It was announced two boats have been placed at the disposal of the unit for transportation.

Another meeting will be held next Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the City Hall.

Lausche Fights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, opposed a bill the Senate passed by voice vote Wednesday. The measure, which now goes back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments, would permit duty-free imports of stained glass windows for St. Joseph's Cathedral in Hartford, Conn. Lausche said the bill will "set a precedent that will haunt us," and that the imports would mean fewer jobs for American workers.

Education Aid Defends McNamara On Ohio View

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The executive secretary of the Ohio Education Association has sent a letter to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara commending him for "pointing out what can happen when a state fails to keep pace educationally."

The secretary, T. G. O'Keefe, told McNamara he had read with interest newspaper accounts of "your comments on Ohio's business climate and it's relation to this state's educational efforts."

McNamara was quoted as saying that Ohio has been lagging in providing for education, thus cutting down on the number of defense contracts it might otherwise receive. He was quoted as saying "we seek the best brains and we go where they are and generally they are not in the midwest."

O'Keefe, in the letter, told McNamara, that as executive secretary of the OEA which represents more than 78,000 of the state's school teachers, that the OEA "has long been aware of this undesirable trend in the state's educational efforts. We attempted to point up this problem during appearance before Ohio's Republican and Democratic platform committees in 1960."

"It is most unfortunate," O'Keefe concluded in the letter, "that Ohio's failure to meet this problem head - on by providing adequate financing for educational facilities must reach the flare of national publicity. However, if such exposure will help in any way to remedy this situation, then it is all for the better."

Man Falls, Drowns As Wife's Efforts Fail

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—Myron Mosser, 52, of Fremont, drowned early today when he fell into the water at Catawba Cliff Beach Club on Catawba Island.

Sheriff's deputies said Mosser missed his footing while stepping from a dock onto a 20-foot sail boat. His wife, Dawn, 50, tried unsuccessfully to hold up her husband, described as weighing well over 200 pounds.

Volunteer firemen recovered the body of the service station operator in six to eight feet of water. Dr. C. R. Wood, the coroner, ruled accidental drowning.

The Mossers were vacationing on the sail boat with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perkins of Toledo. They had docked at the club for the night.

Highway Patrol Nabs 3 From Reformatory

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Freedom was short lived for three Mansfield Reformatory inmates who walked away from the institution Wednesday. Highway patrolmen caught them in a field two hours later.

The three were identified as Glenn E. Warner, 26; Paul E. Skaggs, 19, and Richard L. Grennell, 21. Reformatory officials said hometowns and other background information were not available immediately.

Six vice presidents were later elected to the Presidency — John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Martin Van Buren, Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge and Harry S. Truman.

The specialty steelmaker had reported a loss of $1,495,000 for the first half of 1961 on substantially lower sales and with heavy costs arising from changes in facilities, according to the announcement from the Pittsburgh headquarters.

Edie Adams Acquires Club In Kovacs Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Edie Adams, widow of comedian Ernie Kovacs, has purchased the main asset of his estate by paying $25,000 cash and assuming $1,949,395 in mortgages.

The deal approved in court Wednesday gave Miss Adams sole title to the California Racquet Club, a 4½ acre property in suburban Palms.

Kovacs' estate was once given a paper value of $2.1 million but claims against it now exceed its present assets, court records showed.

Lausche Fights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, opposed a bill the Senate passed by voice vote Wednesday. The measure, which now goes back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments, would permit duty-free imports of stained glass windows for St. Joseph's Cathedral in Hartford, Conn. Lausche said the bill will "set a precedent that will haunt us," and that the imports would mean fewer jobs for American workers.

Education Aid Defends McNamara On Ohio View

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The executive secretary of the Ohio Education Association has sent a letter to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara commending him for "pointing out what can happen when a state fails to keep pace educationally."

The secretary, T. G. O'Keefe, told McNamara he had read with interest newspaper accounts of "your comments on Ohio's business climate and it's relation to this state's educational efforts."

McNamara was quoted as saying that Ohio has been lagging in providing for education, thus cutting down on the number of defense contracts it might otherwise receive. He was quoted as saying "we seek the best brains and we go where they are and generally they are not in the midwest."

O'Keefe, in the letter, told McNamara, that as executive secretary of the OEA which represents more than 78,000 of the state's school teachers, that the OEA "has long been aware of this undesirable trend in the state's educational efforts. We attempted to point up this problem during appearance before Ohio's Republican and Democratic platform committees in 1960."

"It is most unfortunate," O'Keefe concluded in the letter, "that Ohio's failure to meet this problem head - on by providing adequate financing for educational facilities must reach the flare of national publicity. However, if such exposure will help in any way to remedy this situation, then it is all for the better."

Man Falls, Drowns As Wife's Efforts Fail

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—Myron Mosser, 52, of Fremont, drowned early today when he fell into the water at Catawba Cliff Beach Club on Catawba Island.

Sheriff's deputies said Mosser missed his footing while stepping from a dock onto a 20-foot sail boat. His wife, Dawn, 50, tried unsuccessfully to hold up her husband, described as weighing well over 200 pounds.

Volunteer firemen recovered the body of the service station operator in six to eight feet of water. Dr. C. R. Wood, the coroner, ruled accidental drowning.

The Mossers were vacationing on the sail boat with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perkins of Toledo. They had docked at the club for the night.

The three were identified as Glenn E. Warner, 26; Paul E. Skaggs, 19, and Richard L. Grennell, 21. Reformatory officials said hometowns and other background information were not available immediately.

Fired Courthouse Aide Testifies During Appeal

LISBON — Mrs. Jane (Jenny) Case of Columbiana, fired from her job as switchboard operator at Courthouse in May for alleged political activity, testified this morning during hearing of her appeal.

Testimony was heard in Courtroom No. 2 by the State Department of Personnel Board of Review — Minor C. Kershner, chairman; Paul F. Benson and Rueben M. Payne.

The board called on Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw and Atty. Howard M. Cole, assistant, to substantiate "political activity" charges made against Mrs. Case by county commissioners.

Mrs. Case was one of four Democrat sppointees replaced by Republican appointees Feb. 1, 1961, when the Board of Commissioners returned to GOP control. They appealed on grounds of Civil Service protection and won the right to their former jobs after litigation that lasted 15½ months.

Only three returned to work, one job having been eliminated. Commissioners immediately fired all three for alleged political activity in violation of Civil Service laws. Only Mrs. Case appealed.

Brokaw called Miss Rebecca Resnick of East Liverpool, assistant clerk of the Board of Elections, to introduce a petition declaring the candidacy of Dan McKeever for county commissioner in November 1959. It carried 25 signatures and certified that Jane L. Case circulated it.

Next, Brokaw called Mrs. Elaine Exton of Columbiana, secretary of the Democrat Women's Club of Columbiana. The club's minutes showed that Mrs. Case was secretary of the club for a year. The minutes also showed the club contributed $500 to the county Democrat party and purchased two billboards for the campaign.

Mrs. Case was represented by Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem. She testified the club was a social proposition.

Cross-examined by Brokaw, she verified her signature as circulator of McKeever's petition, admitted she had been club secretary, and had helped out at the Democrat tent at the County Fair.

She said she passed out lemonade for about two hours one day. "Weren't there political signs or posters around the tent?" one of the board members asked. She said she didn't remember any.

Kershner told Mrs. Case and the county commissioners a decision will be mailed to them in about two weeks. The hearing lasted about 90 minutes.

New Warrant Awaits Speedster At Chester

Chester police have obtained a warrant for the arrest of an East Liverpool man who reportedly drove a 1949 sedan across the Chester Bridge and through East Liverpool Tuesday night at speeds up to 90 miles an hour.

Chester Police Chief Clarence Lennens said a second warrant has been obtained against the driver for hazardous driving. Lennens spotted the driver on Virginia Ave. Tuesday and attempted to serve a previous warrant for a traffic violation in June.

However, the auto raced off, and Lennens pursued the car into East Liverpool, firing his pistol warning. The car, in which another man was a passenger, was later found abandoned.

Duke has won the Atlantic Coast Conference golf title the last two years.

Motorcade

Joseph Robbins of Globe St., as "Confederates."

About 50 men will take part in the skirmish which will include three cannon and a number of women dressed in Civil War era costumes.

Rick Huston of Wellsville, riding a horse and carrying a Confederate flag, will appear on the scene, marking the arrival of the Confederate force and the time for the skirmish to begin.

The motorcade then will move to West Grove Cemetery, where two Confederates killed in the skirmish are buried. The 104th unit then will serve as Union troops and fire a volley over the graves.

When the ceremony is over, the motorcade will continue onto the Morgan's Monument near West Point where the horsemen will appear following a different route.

After the horses pass, another sham battle will be held. Ray Crawford and John Barns, farmers, will allow parking in their fields for the cars.

The East Liverpool Salvation Army has provided a public address system to be used by Pugh in describing the events. At Monroeville, the Salineville volunteer fire department will remain on standby to extinguish any fires set by the cannons. The West Point volunteers will be on duty at the monument.

Chief Deputy James Miller of the sheriff's office is in charge of police constables and State Highway Patrolmen who will assist the motorcade and the crowds.

A doctor will be sought to standby in event someone is injured.

of fire soared off to strike in a crazy-quilt pattern among the few dozen white clapboard homes in Berlin and the church. A barn a half-mile away housing two school buses was ignited.

"You could see the clapboards come right off the place," said Clifton Shuhart, who found the McCumbers crawling in a field about 400 feet away. They, too, were burned critically.

Algeria

Bone, but authorities in Algiers reported there were many dead and wounded in Constantine.

Ben Bella, a tough, uncompromising revolutionary who uses the Marxist vocabulary, appeared on the verge of taking the power of which he dreamed during five years of French captivity.

Behind them were tough guerrillas of Col. Mohand Ould Hadj, "the old man of the mountains." They set up roadblocks and began to fortify towns and villages dotting the green mountains rising sharply over the Mediterranean.

Testimony was heard in Courtroom No. 2 by the State Department of Personnel Board of Review — Minor C. Kershner, chairman; Paul F. Benson and Rueben M. Payne.

The board called on Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw and Atty. Howard M. Cole, assistant, to substantiate "political activity" charges made against Mrs. Case by county commissioners.

Mrs. Case was one of four Democrat sppointees replaced by Republican appointees Feb. 1, 1961, when the Board of Commissioners returned to GOP control. They appealed on grounds of Civil Service protection and won the right to their former jobs after litigation that lasted 15½ months.

Only three returned to work, one job having been eliminated. Commissioners immediately fired all three for alleged political activity in violation of Civil Service laws. Only Mrs. Case appealed.

Brokaw called Miss Rebecca Resnick of East Liverpool, assistant clerk of the Board of Elections, to introduce a petition declaring the candidacy of Dan McKeever for county commissioner in November 1959. It carried 25 signatures and certified that Jane L. Case circulated it.

Next, Brokaw called Mrs. Elaine Exton of Columbiana, secretary of the Democrat Women's Club of Columbiana. The club's minutes showed that Mrs. Case was secretary of the club for a year. The minutes also showed the club contributed $500 to the county Democrat party and purchased two billboards for the campaign.

Mrs. Case was represented by Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem. She testified the club was a social proposition.

Cross-examined by Brokaw, she verified her signature as circulator of McKeever's petition, admitted she had been club secretary, and had helped out at the Democrat tent at the County Fair.

She said she passed out lemonade for about two hours one day. "Weren't there political signs or posters around the tent?" one of the board members asked. She said she didn't remember any.

Kershner told Mrs. Case and the county commissioners a decision will be mailed to them in about two weeks. The hearing lasted about 90 minutes.

New Warrant Awaits Speedster At Chester

Chester police have obtained a warrant for the arrest of an East Liverpool man who reportedly drove a 1949 sedan across the Chester Bridge and through East Liverpool Tuesday night at speeds up to 90 miles an hour.

Chester Police Chief Clarence Lennens said a second warrant has been obtained against the driver for hazardous driving. Lennens spotted the driver on Virginia Ave. Tuesday and attempted to serve a previous warrant for a traffic violation in June.

However, the auto raced off, and Lennens pursued the car into East Liverpool, firing his pistol warning. The car, in which another man was a passenger, was later found abandoned.

Motorcade

Joseph Robbins of Globe St., as "Confederates."

About 50 men will take part in the skirmish which will include three cannon and a number of women dressed in Civil War era costumes.

Rick Huston of Wellsville, riding a horse and carrying a Confederate flag, will appear on the scene, marking the arrival of the Confederate force and the time for the skirmish to begin.

The motorcade then will move to West Grove Cemetery, where two Confederates killed in the skirmish are buried. The 104th unit then will serve as Union troops and fire a volley over the graves.

When the ceremony is over, the motorcade will continue onto the Morgan's Monument near West Point where the horsemen will appear following a different route.

After the horses pass, another sham battle will be held. Ray Crawford and John Barns, farmers, will allow parking in their fields for the cars.

The East Liverpool Salvation Army has provided a public address system to be used by Pugh in describing the events. At Monroeville, the Salineville volunteer fire department will remain on standby to extinguish any fires set by the cannons. The West Point volunteers will be on duty at the monument.

Chief Deputy James Miller of the sheriff's office is in charge of police constables and State Highway Patrolmen who will assist the motorcade and the crowds.

A doctor will be sought to standby in event someone is injured.

of fire soared off to strike in a crazy-quilt pattern among the few dozen white clapboard homes in Berlin and the church. A barn a half-mile away housing two school buses was ignited.

"You could see the clapboards come right off the place," said Clifton Shuhart, who found the McCumbers crawling in a field about 400 feet away. They, too, were burned critically.

Bone, but authorities in Algiers reported there were many dead and wounded in Constantine.

Ben Bella, a tough, uncompromising revolutionary who uses the Marxist vocabulary, appeared on the verge of taking the power of which he dreamed during five years of French captivity.

Behind them were tough guerrillas of Col. Mohand Ould Hadj, "the old man of the mountains." They set up roadblocks and began to fortify towns and villages dotting the green mountains rising sharply over the Mediterranean.

Racial Strife Nears Climax

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Racial strife headed toward a climax in this quietly waiting city today as Negroes organized for a series of anti - segregation demonstrations, apparently of major proportions.

An all-out protest move by Negro organizations appeared imminent after a self-imposed "day of penance" to atone for rock tossing by some Negroes Tuesday night in the wake of a protest march.

"We must go to jail and we must go in large numbers," said integration leader Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy at a church rally of about 800 Negro followers Wednesday night.

"We can't stop now—and we won't stop now," said Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the symbolic head of the American Negro desegregation struggle.

Two hundred police officers, including state troops and county officers, waited to jail all demonstrators. Nearly 1,000 have been arrested and most of them jailed for varying periods since last December.

White citizens waited to see what would happen after two uneasy weeks of racial unrest.

And the Negroes of the Albany Movement calmly waited out the hours until they would willingly submit to jail, if necessary, in their struggle for racial equality.

At Wednesday night's meeting, many of the Negroes signed cards pledging to go to jail with King, Abernathy and Dr. W. G. Anderson, president of the movement.

Study Indicates Virus Causes Some Cancers

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — The odd distribution of a kind of tumor among children in a mosquito belt of tropical Africa supports the theory that at least some human cancers are caused by viruses, it was reported today.

This cancer in Africa occurs almost exclusively in a broad belt cutting across the tropics from the east to the west coast of the continent—the very belt that is the haunt of certain mosquitoes and of other insects called "tabonids," an Uganda doctor reported to the Eighth International Cancer Congress now in session here.

Dr. D. H. Wright of Kampala said he believes the disease is caused by some still unidentified virus which may be carried by insects in the area.

He described the tumor as a lymphoma, a cancerous process involving the lymph system.

It's a disease found most often in children 3 to 6 years old.

In most victims, the cancer primarily affects the jaw, but also may affect the kidneys, adrenal glands, liver, ovaries, testicles, thyroid and part of the abdomen.

"The tumor is not confined to African children," the doctor said, explaining that Asians and Europeans are affected.

In another report on oddities in cancer, a group of Indian scientists from Bombay told about studies of "kangri" cancer.

That is a malignancy of abdominal skin in Kashmiris, who, the doctors said, "carry a basket of burning coal (kangri) under their clothes to keep warm."

The "coal" is actually wood from a tree called the Chinar, whose leaves, the scientists said, are suspected of having cancer-producing powers.

Food Poisoning Feared In Point Pleasant District

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—West Virginia health authorities fear a possible outbreak of food poisoning may be starting in the Point Pleasant - Gallipolis, Ohio, area.

Health Director N. H. Dyer said he has learned at least part of several hundred pounds of frozen meats, fish, shellfish and vegetables sold at a sheriff's sale Monday in Point Pleasant had spoiled.

"We've already had several reports of illness in the area and local Health Department officials have confirmed some food spoilage," Dyer said.

Local officials continued efforts to contact as many persons as possible among those who made purchases at the sale, but Dyer said the problem was complicated by the fact that some items were purchased for resale.

Reports Given Church Group

Reports, including one on the Home for Children and the Aged at Gerry, N. Y., by the Rev. O. L. Holley, home superintendent, featured the second day of the 80th annual session of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Free Methodist Church Wednesday at the Campgrounds on Anderson Blvd.

Other reports were by R. D. Merkle, Sunday School secretary; W. P. Jones, director of leadership training; John Lee, Christian Youth Crusaders director; E. W. Cowsert, Free Methodist youth director, and H. C. Mitchell, group insurance treasurer.

In the afternoon, the Women's Missionary Society held its first session under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Foy of Pittsburgh, conference president.

It was reported that the society raised $35,374 during the year for missionary work; 166 persons read the entire Bible and 13,319 religious books were read.

Preceding business, Bishop E. C. John gave an address on "Worshipping the Changeless Christ." He presented a challenge of the Board of Bishops and declared that "Christ is the answer."

The Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Root, missionaries from India, will speak tonight at a missionary rally.

Another guest speaker for the sessions is the Rev. Clyde VanValin, director chaplain at the John Wesley Foundation associated with the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1775, the Second Continental Congress named Benjamin Franklin to head the new Post Office Department. His earlier pioneer work in establishing a postal system for the colonies was one of the uniting forces that made the revolution possible.

On this date:

In 1776, the Declaration of Independence officially was proclaimed in Williamsburg, Va.

In 1863, the famed "Morgan's Raiders" were rounded up and captured by Union forces near Lisbon, Ohio.

In 1943, Benito Mussolini was ousted as premier of Italy.

In 1947, President Truman signed the bill consolidating the military forces into a single Department of Defense.

Today's birthdays:

Gracie Allen, formerly of radio and TV's Burns and Allen team, is 52.

Ward has been with the Bills since shortly before the Broadway performance. Several weeks ago the quartet gave an outstanding show at Oglebay Park in Wheeling, presenting a 2½-hour program by themselves.

This followed with engagements in Florida and St. Louis. In the fall they will again appear with the Arthur Godfrey TV show.

Ward was a former member of the local barbershop chapter, having served once as a director. He also sang with "The Jolly Boys" and "The Great Scots."

On this date:

In 1863, the famed "Morgan's Raiders" were rounded up and captured by Union forces near Lisbon, Ohio.

In 1943, Benito Mussolini was ousted as premier of Italy.

In 1947, President Truman signed the bill consolidating the military forces into a single Department of Defense.

Today's birthdays:

Thought for today:

"I believe in the sacredness of a promise, that a man's word should be as good as his bond; that character — not wealth or power or position—is of supreme worth." (John D. Rockefeller Jr.).

Football coach Jess Neeley of Rice shows a career record of 191 victories against 143 setbacks and 17 ties.

Ward has been with the Bills since shortly before the Broadway performance. Several weeks ago the quartet gave an outstanding show at Oglebay Park in Wheeling, presenting a 2½-hour program by themselves.

This followed with engagements in Florida and St. Louis. In the fall they will again appear with the Arthur Godfrey TV show.

Ward was a former member of the local barbershop chapter, having served once as a director. He also sang with "The Jolly Boys" and "The Great Scots."

Long, Lean And Lovely Mark Dior Fall Styles

PARIS (AP)—Marc Bohan of Christian Dior proved today that he is a man of his word by introducing a fall collection without revolutionary changes. Styles were simply long, lean and lovely.

The House of Dior, that has in the past de-emphasized busts and ignored waistlines, this year reassuringly emphasized the bust, but not too much, and raised, and at least noted, the waist.

Bohan's general silhouette is long and supple, with rounded shoulders. The back is straight and the front curved. This is the chief departure from other designers this season who have flattened the front and added fullness to the back.

Earlier this season, he expressed belief that this was no year for the kind of drastic fashion change for which the house is noted. Much to the unhappiness of the press and the fashion syndicate, Bohan in his enthusiasm for his collection showed some of his models on a recent Telstar broadcast.

The theme demonstrated by models with heavily made-up eyes is that it is a small world where distances, climate or season mean nothing in terms of fashion anymore. There were, for example, bulky tweed coats, and fur-lined jackets over bare-armed sheaths. Whatever the models wore, the audience applauded almost constantly.

Among the suits were many hip length jackets with long T-cut sleeves worn over stem or triangle pleated skirts. But the predominating idea was a long jacket, or jumper, that reached to the thigh area of a full skirt. This theme moved from tweedy daytime wear into the evening wardrobe where the silhouette was done up in velvet and brocades.

Trinity Church Women's Unit Makes Retreat Plans

Plans to attend the summer retreat Aug. 28-29 at the Beaver Creek Presbyterian Camp at Grimms Bridge were made at the group meetings of the Women's Association of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night.

Announcement was also made of the workshop for Presbyterial officers Aug. 7 at the Oak Ridge church. Officers will be elected at the coverdish dinner general meeting at the church Sept. 11. The "Fellowship of the Least Coin" will be dedicated.

The Naomi Group met in the afternoon in the social rooms. Mrs. J. W. Batey conducted devotions, reading Scripture from Rom. 6.

Mrs. Evelyn Gamble read a story, "The Elevator Boy In the Wrong Building." Business was conducted by Mrs. Gamble, group leader. Twelve responded to roll call. Mrs. Sondra Jean Lynn read the financial report.

A coverdish picnic highlighted the meeting of the Sara Group with Mrs. Grace Lawrence of Riverside Park. About 14 attended.

Mrs. Alice Cain, group leader, presided. Mrs. Lawrence read an article, "The Sudden Change," from Guidepost magazine.

Contests were won by Mrs. Bernard Locke and Mrs. Donald Baxter. Mrs. Maude Laughlin was a guest.

The place is pending for the meeting Sept. 25.

aced Champ with it and fled on foot, the attendant said.

The bandit disappeared in the direction of Poplar Ln., an alley at the rear of the station where there is a maze of buildings and byways.

Champ summoned police. Despite a widespread search that began immediately, officers were unable to locate the bandit. But they had several clues — a good description of the bandit, plus Champ's assertion he knew the youth by sight but not by name and believed he resided nearby on Dresden Ave.

The Everhart boy — a carrier for out-of-town newspapers — reported he had been robbed himself on E. 4th St. in front of the Carnegie Public Library Sunday at 2:19 p. m., but he admitted last night that the report was a hoax, officers said.

EVERHART'S original report said he was walking on E. 4th St. when two men pulled to the curb in a dark green sedan and one of them asked him if he had change for a $5 bill. The boy said one of the men then grabbed him and took his coin-changer, his wallet and $31.90.

He said one of the men menaced him with a switchblade knife, nicking his right arm slightly.

Under questioning last night, the boy told police he placed his wallet and the coin changer in a luggage locker at the Bus Terminal, then went to E. 4th St. and nicked his arm with his own knife. The boy said he then telephoned police and turned in the false robbery report.

The youth did not know it at the time, but he already was under suspicion as the service station bandit because of a speech impediment. The service station attendant's description of the bandit mentioned the impediment.

The farmers of the world today produce one-third more food and other agricultural products than they did 20 years ago — an increase slightly larger than the increase in the world's population.

Autoist Pays For Ticket In Wrong Town

A confused motorist came up with a new wrinkle Wednesday for paying a meter penalty that would fatten East Liverpool's treasury at Wellsville's expense.

Given an overtime parking ticket in Wellsville, the driver dropped a 50-cent penalty in one of the new curb collection boxes that East Liverpool placed in service Monday.

"Looks like a fine arrangement to me," Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said facetiously when a "Meter Maid" called the payment to his attention. "Let Wellsville issue the tickets and we'll collect the fines."

He instructed the "Meter Maids" to forward the payment to Wellsville authorities so the downriver city will obtain its revenue and the driver will get credit for paying the penalty.

The confusion resulted because both East Liverpool and Wellsville now use the new-type tickets that contain an envelope in which the motorist may pay his fine. He seals the money in the envelope and drops it into the nearest box mounted on a meter standard, obviating the need for a trip to City Hall to make payment.

The error was discovered this morning when "Meter Maids" were writing receipts for funds obtained yesterday when East Liverpool made the first collection from the new boxes. The envelope is imprinted plainly: "City of Wellsville, Ohio."

It shows that a car bearing license L-1214-L was ticketed Tuesday at 2:02 p. m. for a violation at Meter No. 142 in Wellsville.

Wellsville has used the curbside collection system since installing the meters.

Long, Lean And Lovely Mark Dior Fall Styles

PARIS (AP)—Marc Bohan of Christian Dior proved today that he is a man of his word by introducing a fall collection without revolutionary changes. Styles were simply long, lean and lovely.

The House of Dior, that has in the past de-emphasized busts and ignored waistlines, this year reassuringly emphasized the bust, but not too much, and raised, and at least noted, the waist.

Bohan's general silhouette is long and supple, with rounded shoulders. The back is straight and the front curved. This is the chief departure from other designers this season who have flattened the front and added fullness to the back.

Earlier this season, he expressed belief that this was no year for the kind of drastic fashion change for which the house is noted. Much to the unhappiness of the press and the fashion syndicate, Bohan in his enthusiasm for his collection showed some of his models on a recent Telstar broadcast.

The theme demonstrated by models with heavily made-up eyes is that it is a small world where distances, climate or season mean nothing in terms of fashion anymore. There were, for example, bulky tweed coats, and fur-lined jackets over bare-armed sheaths. Whatever the models wore, the audience applauded almost constantly.

Among the suits were many hip length jackets with long T-cut sleeves worn over stem or triangle pleated skirts. But the predominating idea was a long jacket, or jumper, that reached to the thigh area of a full skirt. This theme moved from tweedy daytime wear into the evening wardrobe where the silhouette was done up in velvet and brocades.

Trinity Church Women's Unit Makes Retreat Plans

Plans to attend the summer retreat Aug. 28-29 at the Beaver Creek Presbyterian Camp at Grimms Bridge were made at the group meetings of the Women's Association of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night.

Announcement was also made of the workshop for Presbyterial officers Aug. 7 at the Oak Ridge church. Officers will be elected at the coverdish dinner general meeting at the church Sept. 11. The "Fellowship of the Least Coin" will be dedicated.

The Naomi Group met in the afternoon in the social rooms. Mrs. J. W. Batey conducted devotions, reading Scripture from Rom. 6.

Mrs. Evelyn Gamble read a story, "The Elevator Boy In the Wrong Building." Business was conducted by Mrs. Gamble, group leader. Twelve responded to roll call. Mrs. Sondra Jean Lynn read the financial report.

A coverdish picnic highlighted the meeting of the Sara Group with Mrs. Grace Lawrence of Riverside Park. About 14 attended.

Mrs. Alice Cain, group leader, presided. Mrs. Lawrence read an article, "The Sudden Change," from Guidepost magazine.

Contests were won by Mrs. Bernard Locke and Mrs. Donald Baxter. Mrs. Maude Laughlin was a guest.

The place is pending for the meeting Sept. 25.

aced Champ with it and fled on foot, the attendant said.

The bandit disappeared in the direction of Poplar Ln., an alley at the rear of the station where there is a maze of buildings and byways.

Champ summoned police. Despite a widespread search that began immediately, officers were unable to locate the bandit. But they had several clues — a good description of the bandit, plus Champ's assertion he knew the youth by sight but not by name and believed he resided nearby on Dresden Ave.

The Everhart boy — a carrier for out-of-town newspapers — reported he had been robbed himself on E. 4th St. in front of the Carnegie Public Library Sunday at 2:19 p. m., but he admitted last night that the report was a hoax, officers said.

EVERHART'S original report said he was walking on E. 4th St. when two men pulled to the curb in a dark green sedan and one of them asked him if he had change for a $5 bill. The boy said one of the men then grabbed him and took his coin-changer, his wallet and $31.90.

Under questioning last night, the boy told police he placed his wallet and the coin changer in a luggage locker at the Bus Terminal, then went to E. 4th St. and nicked his arm with his own knife. The boy said he then telephoned police and turned in the false robbery report.

The youth did not know it at the time, but he already was under suspicion as the service station bandit because of a speech impediment. The service station attendant's description of the bandit mentioned the impediment.

The farmers of the world today produce one-third more food and other agricultural products than they did 20 years ago — an increase slightly larger than the increase in the world's population.

Autoist Pays For Ticket In Wrong Town

A confused motorist came up with a new wrinkle Wednesday for paying a meter penalty that would fatten East Liverpool's treasury at Wellsville's expense.

Given an overtime parking ticket in Wellsville, the driver dropped a 50-cent penalty in one of the new curb collection boxes that East Liverpool placed in service Monday.

"Looks like a fine arrangement to me," Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said facetiously when a "Meter Maid" called the payment to his attention. "Let Wellsville issue the tickets and we'll collect the fines."

He instructed the "Meter Maids" to forward the payment to Wellsville authorities so the downriver city will obtain its revenue and the driver will get credit for paying the penalty.

The confusion resulted because both East Liverpool and Wellsville now use the new-type tickets that contain an envelope in which the motorist may pay his fine. He seals the money in the envelope and drops it into the nearest box mounted on a meter standard, obviating the need for a trip to City Hall to make payment.

The error was discovered this morning when "Meter Maids" were writing receipts for funds obtained yesterday when East Liverpool made the first collection from the new boxes. The envelope is imprinted plainly: "City of Wellsville, Ohio."

It shows that a car bearing license L-1214-L was ticketed Tuesday at 2:02 p. m. for a violation at Meter No. 142 in Wellsville.

Wellsville has used the curbside collection system since installing the meters.

U.S. Expects Reds To Spur Viet Assaults

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials anticipate a mounting Communist guerrilla offensive in South Viet Nam in the next 60 or 90 days.

Informed sources said today Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was told at his Honolulu conferences that it is highly possible the Red Viet Cong will step up their attacks to counter increasing pressure from U.S.-supported government forces.

American authorities, it was learned, also believe the Communists may become more aggressive as part of a drive to establish a rump regime in South Viet Nam.

High U.S. officials are worried that the Communist North Vietnamese may try to follow a pattern like that which worked so successfully in neighboring Laos.

There, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels seized control of a portion of the country and organized a regime which challenged the pro-Western government in Vientiane. Ultimately, the pro-Western government of Laos was unseated and replaced by a neutralist regime believed to lean leftward.

Informants familiar with the discussions in Honolulu early this week said the South Vietnamese forces will do their best to prevent the Communist Viet Cong from consolidating in any sector.

Admittedly, officials said, this will be difficult even with South Vietnamese troops being flown by U.S. helicopters into jungle and mountain areas where the Communists long have had free rein.

So far, informants said, there has been no big scale flow of Communist reinforcements into South Viet Nam across the Laotian border since the fighting in Laos ended.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, American chief in South Viet Nam, was said to have given McNamara a report that was generally on the optimistic side.

Once again, it was stressed that the war in South Viet Nam probably will last for years.

McNamara was told the strategic hamlet program is moving ahead. Up to date, 2,400 of these new settlements have been built, many of them heavily fortified to stand off Communist attacks. The goal is to have 7,000 of these villages started by Jan. 1.

Under this program, peasants are removed from areas where they are vulnerable to Communist coercion and resettled in protected towns within reach of South Vietnamese forces.

Authorities said there has been a definite gain toward greater political freedom for the peasants and that this has undercut a major Communist propaganda pitch.

Barbed Humor Should Be Halted

At some time it might be an interesting and profitable experience to recall how many jokes you have heard, or told yourself, which caused laughter at a person who was depicted in the joke as inferior to the person telling or laughing at it. Some of you parents may recall when you and your children enjoyed the radio program "Amos and Andy". Nearly all the items laughed at revolved around the "dumb" or stupid things one or more of the characters expressed; and the characters took the part of Negroes.

Dr. Garry Meyers

FOR YEARS MILLIONS of people in the United States were having fun over the suggested inferiority of the dark - skinned persons of our nation, a tenth of our population.

Gradually there grew up a popular sentiment in our nation which caused this type of radio program to disappear. Likewise some comic strips used to depict certain groups of persons in our country or elsewhere in the world as inferior, and aimed to arouse smiles or laughter over their suggested inferiority.

Indeed, you may have heard or read that certain famous creators of comic strips complain that they are hampered in not being allowed by the public to continue making comic strips which suggest inferiority in any type or group of persons.

This change has not come about through legislation or government interference, but through normal pressures of a changing public sentiment. It's evidence of a growing spirit of brotherhood among us, a growing appreciation of all human beings as precious persons.

LET'S LOOK closer home.

You go with your spouse to a gathering of friends, where there are other married or espoused couples. There you hear efforts at humor in which one spouse, more often the husband, makes a remark to or about the other spouse, aimed at arousing laughter. How often this remark suggests stupidity, or some other type of inferiority, in the second spouse.

If you have ever been a victim of such barbarity, you know what I'm talking about. And if you doubt that this kind of joking happens, listen for such next time you are at a meeting of couples at a bridge party, church meeting or gathering.

The human frailty back of this phenomenon is so potent and insidious that it may be a long, long while before the practice wanes or disappears. Could it be that it, too, will meet with effective disapproval generally?

I wonce wrote a prayer for myself as parent. (It may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.) Perhaps we might extend its philosophy to include one's spouse, even all persons.

Lisbon's School Superintendent Takes New Post

LISBON — Dr. Russell C. Armitage, superintendent of Lisbon schools since Aug. 8, 1960, will leave Sept. 1 to become superintendent of the Mt. Vernon school system.

The Mt. Vernon Board of Education announced his employment this morning. He received a two-year contract at $12,500 per year.

Mt. Vernon has 10 elementary buildings, a junior high and a senior high school. Last year it had 4,646 students and employed 206 teachers, administrators and special services personnel.

Dr. Armitage came to Lisbon from Toledo, where he was assistant superintendent of Lucas County schools. He took his undergraduate work at Kent State University where he earned his master's in education. He received the doctor of philosophy degree from Ohio State University while at Lisbon.

Charles J. Pickens, former superintendent at Mt. Vernon, is going to Maple Heights High School and will work on his doctorate at Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

Dr. Armitage, his wife, Olive, and their daughter, Lisa, 8, plan to remain in their E. Chestnut St. home until September. He has vacation time coming here and will divide his time next month between Mt. Vernon and Lisbon.

The local Board of Education is awaiting a list of candidates from the screening-referral agency at Ohio State University. The board will screen the list to approximately six candidates before scheduling personal interviews.

Chester Area Bar Robbed

Bob's Bar, on Route 30 east of Chester, was entered sometime Wednesday by burglars who obtained $90 in cash from coin-operated devices they rifled, the operator informed Hancock County sheriff's deputies in New Cumberland.

Robert Fryer notified deputies that the tavern was entered Wednesday between 5 and 10:30 a. m.

The robbery was the second reported to the sheriff's office this week and the third in two weeks.

Dorothy DeLong told the sheriff's office Monday afternoon at 3:40 that the Riviera Club on State Route 2 near Pughtown was entered, coin-operated devices rifled, and merchandise stolen.

Entry to Bob's Bar was gained by prying out a panel in a basement door on the east side of the building, reaching inside, and unlocking the door, deputies said.

A total of $90 in cash was stolen, including $12 from a cigarette machine, $50 from a pinball machine, $20 from a music box, and $3 from a pool table. Deputies recovered $3.70 in dimes in investigating.

A hatchet, pipe wrench and small bar or tire tool, possibly used to gain entry, are being checked for fingerprints.

There was $68.10 in cash stolen from the Riviera Club, including $30 from a music box and $25 from a bowling game, in addition to two cases of beer and a case of soft drinks. Entry was gained by removing a screen from a window in the women's restroom in the south section of the building.

Callas' Dairy Bar in Newell was also entered recently.

Plans Begun For New Route 56 Near Athens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Highway Department has announced that consultants have started work on construction plans for an 11-mile section of Ohio 56 which will extend from the Vinton County line east to a point about 0.41 of a mile west of the Athens corporation line.

The proposed $3,860,000 two-lane project is designed to link with all other major highways in the Athens area. Preliminary engineering plans are expected to be completed by December.

The improvement would replace the present road which has only a 38 per cent sufficiency rating. Authorities say the existing crooked, narrow and hilly highway is inadequate for present traffic loads.

American teen-agers, according to one recent estimate, have about seven billion dollars to spend a year.

This change has not come about through legislation or government interference, but through normal pressures of a changing public sentiment. It's evidence of a growing spirit of brotherhood among us, a growing appreciation of all human beings as precious persons.

LET'S LOOK closer home.

You go with your spouse to a gathering of friends, where there are other married or espoused couples. There you hear efforts at humor in which one spouse, more often the husband, makes a remark to or about the other spouse, aimed at arousing laughter. How often this remark suggests stupidity, or some other type of inferiority, in the second spouse.

If you have ever been a victim of such barbarity, you know what I'm talking about. And if you doubt that this kind of joking happens, listen for such next time you are at a meeting of couples at a bridge party, church meeting or gathering.

The human frailty back of this phenomenon is so potent and insidious that it may be a long, long while before the practice wanes or disappears. Could it be that it, too, will meet with effective disapproval generally?

I wonce wrote a prayer for myself as parent. (It may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.) Perhaps we might extend its philosophy to include one's spouse, even all persons.

Chester Area Bar Robbed

Bob's Bar, on Route 30 east of Chester, was entered sometime Wednesday by burglars who obtained $90 in cash from coin-operated devices they rifled, the operator informed Hancock County sheriff's deputies in New Cumberland.

Robert Fryer notified deputies that the tavern was entered Wednesday between 5 and 10:30 a. m.

The robbery was the second reported to the sheriff's office this week and the third in two weeks.

Dorothy DeLong told the sheriff's office Monday afternoon at 3:40 that the Riviera Club on State Route 2 near Pughtown was entered, coin-operated devices rifled, and merchandise stolen.

Entry to Bob's Bar was gained by prying out a panel in a basement door on the east side of the building, reaching inside, and unlocking the door, deputies said.

A total of $90 in cash was stolen, including $12 from a cigarette machine, $50 from a pinball machine, $20 from a music box, and $3 from a pool table. Deputies recovered $3.70 in dimes in investigating.

A hatchet, pipe wrench and small bar or tire tool, possibly used to gain entry, are being checked for fingerprints.

There was $68.10 in cash stolen from the Riviera Club, including $30 from a music box and $25 from a bowling game, in addition to two cases of beer and a case of soft drinks. Entry was gained by removing a screen from a window in the women's restroom in the south section of the building.

Callas' Dairy Bar in Newell was also entered recently.

Plans Begun For New Route 56 Near Athens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Highway Department has announced that consultants have started work on construction plans for an 11-mile section of Ohio 56 which will extend from the Vinton County line east to a point about 0.41 of a mile west of the Athens corporation line.

The proposed $3,860,000 two-lane project is designed to link with all other major highways in the Athens area. Preliminary engineering plans are expected to be completed by December.

The improvement would replace the present road which has only a 38 per cent sufficiency rating. Authorities say the existing crooked, narrow and hilly highway is inadequate for present traffic loads.

THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1962 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 12

Don Pitches 5-2 Victory Over Cards

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers said this was the year for Don Drysdale to win 20 games. But nobody said anything about 30.

They're saying it now.

Don won his 18th, and eighth in a row, Wednesday night, as he beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2, to keep the Dodgers a game on top of the National League standings. The runner-up San Francisco Giants kept pace with a 3-2 win over Houston.

The victory which brought Drysdale's mark to 18-4 this year improved his chances of becoming the first big leaguer since Dizzy Dean in 1934 to win 30. Dizzy was 30-7 that year.

Bob Purkey of Cincinnati kept pace with Drysdale's eight game streak with his 16th victory, 13-6, over the Pittsburgh Pirates, and the Reds' right-hander must also be given a chance—although a faint one—at 30 wins.

On the other end of the scale, Roger Craig, the hard-working right-hander of the hapless New York Mets, dropped his 16th of the year—he has won five—to the Milwaukee Braves, 11-5.

The Chicago Cubs beat the Philadelphia Phils 5-2 in the other league game.

Billy O'Dell gained his 13th victory for the Giants, with help from Don Larsen and Stu Miller. Jim Davenport homered, and Chuck Hiller and Tom Haller drove in the other runs for the Giants.

Purkey went all the way, although Pittsburgh catcher Smoky Burgess touched him for two homers, and the Reds backed him with a 21-hit barrage. Frank Robinson had four straight hits.

Joe Adcock smashed a grand slam homer and a solo four bagger and Eddie Mathews had a pair of two-run homers as the Braves sent the Mets down to their 10th straight defeat.

Ernie Banks smashed homers 25 and 26 to lead the Cubs to a 2-1 series victory over the Phils.

Rain Halts EL Nationals In Bid For 2nd Victory

The East Liverpool National League All-Stars were within two outs of notching their second victory in the District Little League tournament Wednesday when the rains came.

Two more outs would have completed the required innings to make the game official but a heavy downpour hit the Massillon area and the East Liverpool entry will return to Massillon tonight to complete the game from the point at which it was stopped.

Yesterday, East Liverpool's John Finley was pitching superb baseball as he had allowed the Massillon Americans only one hit over the four-inning span and that was the only opponent to get on base. Finley will return to the mound for the locals today.

East Liverpool's three runs were results of home runs clubbed by Earl Diddle with a teammate aboard in the third inning. In the fourth inning Gary Arrington clubbed a solo homer to make the count 3-0.

Saperstein Revives ABL, New League To Try Again

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Instead of nearing burial with brief rites, as generally expected, the infant American Basketball League today came out clawing at the long-established National Basketball Association.

ABL Commissioner Abe Saperstein, a quiet, but tough little basketball impressario for many years, not only rallied his sagging loop for a six-member try next season, but also hurled a law suit threat at the NBA with the Jerry Lucas-enriched Cleveland Pipers as the big bone of contention.

After a two-day league session, Saperstein announced the ABL will try again next season with Denver as a new member, Hawaii and New York switching to Long Beach, Calif., and Philadelphia, and Kansas City, Pittsburgh and his own Chicago Majors holding over.

Lost from last season's ABL seven-club array are the Pipers, whose bid to join the rival NBA gets formal consideration Monday, and the San Francisco Saints, who quit in the wake of an NBA jump of its Philadelphia Warriors to San Francisco.

Saperstein, whose independent Harlem Globetrotters have harvested him money all over the world, Wednesday sent bristling telegrams to NBA Commissioner Maurice Podoloff and Cleveland Piper owner George Steinbrenner. The NBA's board of governors meets Monday ostensibly to accept a $100,000 performance bond from Cleveland.

Both were warned that Cleveland's membership acceptance by the NBA will bring legal action from the ABL.

A's Spill Cleveland, 5-4

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

No runs. No hits. Four magic words—and then problems.

Earl Wilson, middle man of baseball's problem-plagued no-hit trio, shook his slump Wednesday night as Boston whipped the American League leading New York Yankees 4-2 in the first game of a doubleheader before the Red Sox bowed 6-4 in the nightcap.

The split left the Yankees 2½ games in front of the second-place Angels, who blanked Baltimore 5-0. Third-place Minnesota edged Detroit 7-6, Kansas City knocked off fourth-place Cleveland 5-4 and Washington nipped the Chicago White Sox 4-3.

The Red Sox won the opener for Wilson (7-3) with three runs in the fourth after an error by Clete Boyer opened the door. Ed Bressoud and Billy Gardner drove in a run each with singles and Gary Geiger's sacrifice fly accounted for the other off Ralph Terry (13-9). The Yankees took the nightcap when Hector Lopez stroked a two-run pinch-hit single off Mike Fornieles (2-6) with the score tied 4-4 in the last of the eighth. That gave the victory to reliever Marshall Bridges (4-0).

Joe Koppe doubled in two runs for the Angels in the second inning and Earl Averill hit a three-run homer in the seventh to wrap it up against the Orioles. Averill pinch-hit for starter Don Lee (4-3) who held Baltimore to four hits before Dean Chance took over and finished up the shutout, allowing two hits. Jack Fisher (2-5) took the loss.

A walk and singles by Len Green, Vic Power and Rich Rollins scored the tying and winning runs for the Twins in the last of the ninth. Steve Boros and Chico Fernandez homered for the Tigers while Bob Allison and Power connected for the Twins. Ray Moore (6-3) picked up the victory in relief. Ron Nischwitz (3-2) was the loser.

Diego Segui (7-5) held the Indians to three hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth and the A's were hard pressed to hold on behind Danny McDevitt, John Wyatt and Bill Fischer, who got Jerry Kindall for the final out with the winning runs on base. The A's scored four runs in the second against Sam McDowell (2-4), then came up with the clincher in the fifth.

The Senators scored two in the first inning then put it out of reach with a pair in the second on a homer by Don Lock and Chuck Cottier's run-scoring single. White Sox starter Juan Pizarro (9-9) lost it. Claude Osteen (5-7) was the winner.

Don Pitches 5-2 Victory Over Cards

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers said this was the year for Don Drysdale to win 20 games. But nobody said anything about 30.

They're saying it now.

Don won his 18th, and eighth in a row, Wednesday night, as he beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2, to keep the Dodgers a game on top of the National League standings. The runner-up San Francisco Giants kept pace with a 3-2 win over Houston.

The victory which brought Drysdale's mark to 18-4 this year improved his chances of becoming the first big leaguer since Dizzy Dean in 1934 to win 30. Dizzy was 30-7 that year.

Bob Purkey of Cincinnati kept pace with Drysdale's eight game streak with his 16th victory, 13-6, over the Pittsburgh Pirates, and the Reds' right-hander must also be given a chance—although a faint one—at 30 wins.

On the other end of the scale, Roger Craig, the hard-working right-hander of the hapless New York Mets, dropped his 16th of the year—he has won five—to the Milwaukee Braves, 11-5.

The Chicago Cubs beat the Philadelphia Phils 5-2 in the other league game.

Billy O'Dell gained his 13th victory for the Giants, with help from Don Larsen and Stu Miller. Jim Davenport homered, and Chuck Hiller and Tom Haller drove in the other runs for the Giants.

Purkey went all the way, although Pittsburgh catcher Smoky Burgess touched him for two homers, and the Reds backed him with a 21-hit barrage. Frank Robinson had four straight hits.

Joe Adcock smashed a grand slam homer and a solo four bagger and Eddie Mathews had a pair of two-run homers as the Braves sent the Mets down to their 10th straight defeat.

Ernie Banks smashed homers 25 and 26 to lead the Cubs to a 2-1 series victory over the Phils.

Stanton Local Team Seeks Second Victory

Rain Halts EL Nationals In Bid For 2nd Victory

The East Liverpool National League All-Stars were within two outs of notching their second victory in the District Little League tournament Wednesday when the rains came.

Two more outs would have completed the required innings to make the game official but a heavy downpour hit the Massillon area and the East Liverpool entry will return to Massillon tonight to complete the game from the point at which it was stopped.

Going into today's contest at Massillon which starts at 6 p. m., East Liverpool is leading 3-0 with one out in the bottom of the fourth inning.

Yesterday, East Liverpool's John Finley was pitching superb baseball as he had allowed the Massillon Americans only one hit over the four-inning span and that was the only opponent to get on base. Finley will return to the mound for the locals today.

East Liverpool's three runs were results of home runs clubbed by Earl Diddle with a teammate aboard in the third inning. In the fourth inning Gary Arrington clubbed a solo homer to make the count 3-0.

Saperstein Revives ABL, New League To Try Again

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Instead of nearing burial with brief rites, as generally expected, the infant American Basketball League today came out clawing at the long-established National Basketball Association.

ABL Commissioner Abe Saperstein, a quiet, but tough little basketball impressario for many years, not only rallied his sagging loop for a six-member try next season, but also hurled a law suit threat at the NBA with the Jerry Lucas-enriched Cleveland Pipers as the big bone of contention.

After a two-day league session, Saperstein announced the ABL will try again next season with Denver as a new member, Hawaii and New York switching to Long Beach, Calif., and Philadelphia, and Kansas City, Pittsburgh and his own Chicago Majors holding over.

Lost from last season's ABL seven-club array are the Pipers, whose bid to join the rival NBA gets formal consideration Monday, and the San Francisco Saints, who quit in the wake of an NBA jump of its Philadelphia Warriors to San Francisco.

Saperstein, whose independent Harlem Globetrotters have harvested him money all over the world, Wednesday sent bristling telegrams to NBA Commissioner Maurice Podoloff and Cleveland Piper owner George Steinbrenner. The NBA's board of governors meets Monday ostensibly to accept a $100,000 performance bond from Cleveland.

Both were warned that Cleveland's membership acceptance by the NBA will bring legal action from the ABL.

A's Spill Cleveland, 5-4

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

No runs. No hits. Four magic words—and then problems.

Earl Wilson, middle man of baseball's problem-plagued no-hit trio, shook his slump Wednesday night as Boston whipped the American League leading New York Yankees 4-2 in the first game of a doubleheader before the Red Sox bowed 6-4 in the nightcap.

It was the first victory for the strapping Red Sox right-hander since he hurled his no-hitter June 26.

The split left the Yankees 2½ games in front of the second-place Angels, who blanked Baltimore 5-0. Third-place Minnesota edged Detroit 7-6. Kansas City knocked off fourth-place Cleveland 5-4 and Washington nipped the Chicago White Sox 4-3.

The Red Sox won the opener for Wilson (7-3) with three runs in the fourth after an error by Clete Boyer opened the door. Ed Bressoud and Billy Gardner drove in a run each with singles and Gary Geiger's sacrifice fly accounted for the other off Ralph Terry (13-9). The Yankees took the nightcap when Hector Lopez stroked a two-run pinch-hit single off Mike Fornieles (2-6) with the score tied 4-4 in the last of the eighth. That gave the victory to reliever Marshall Bridges (4-0).

Joe Koppe doubled in two runs for the Angels in the second inning and Earl Averill hit a three-run homer in the seventh to wrap it up against the Orioles. Averill pinch-hit for starter Don Lee (4-3) who held Baltimore to four hits before Dean Chance took over and finished up the shutout, allowing two hits. Jack Fisher (2-5) took the loss.

A walk and singles by Len Green, Vic Power and Rich Rollins scored the tying and winning runs for the Twins in the last of the ninth. Steve Boros and Chico Fernandez homered for the Tigers while Bob Allison and Power connected for the Twins. Ray Moore (6-3) picked up the victory in relief. Ron Nischwitz (3-2) was the loser.

Diego Segui (7-5) held the Indians to three hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth and the A's were hard pressed to hold on behind Danny McDevitt, John Wyatt and Bill Fischer, who got Jerry Kindall for the final out with the winning runs on base. The A's scored four runs in the second against Sam McDowell (2-4), then came up with the clincher in the fifth.

The Senators scored two in the first inning then put it out of reach with a pair in the second on a homer by Don Lock and Chuck Cottier's run-scoring single. White Sox starter Juan Pizarro (9-9) lost it. Claude Osteen (5-7) was the winner.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Not long ago the Salem police picked up a beaver on Jennings Ave. nibbling at the shrubbery in the yard of a local resident. Another beaver was cornered and captured by mill police while it was ambling around on the cement yard of the Mullins Mfg. Co. plant.

I removed a raccoon from the rafters of the Deming plant in Salem and took another one out of a tree within 200 feet of the old Salem post office, virtually in the heart of the city. More squirrels can be seen in Centennial Park than you will find in any of the wooded sections out in the wilds.

RECENTLY, I have received many complaints about skunks. No one wants to tangle with a skunk, including the local game protector. The point is this: when it reaches the point where either you or the skunk has to go, naturally the woods kitty gets no consideration.

When these little stinkers move in under the porch or find a den in the garage, they usually can be chased away by leaving an electric bulb burning where they enter the den. Skunks are afraid of light and won't re-enter the den. They move on to some other spot.

As a last resort in getting rid of this undesirable "neighbor", you can go after it with a garden hose, ball bat or any other lethal weapon, providing you do not violate any of the city regulations when it comes to firearms.

He can be trapped and destroyed if you prefer when actually doing damage, but he might leave a tell-tale reminder that someone was there other than Kilroy.

IN THE proper environment the polecat can be very beneficial as he goes about his daily feeding habits of eating many grubs, beetles and other undesirable insects.

At the same time he is fond of any kind of eggs, be they those of quail, pheasants, grouse or songbirds. He has even been known to kill and eat a portion of chicken, as they seek fresh blood about the time the young are born.

Mets Knock Leaders Off, E. End Wins

Jack Bailey's grand slam home run was the big blow struck for the Mets while Bailey and Mike Mikita had three hits in four trips. R. Crews also homered for the winners. Boley was the winning pitcher. John Fisher tripled and Jack Bair had two hits in three trips for the Billiards.

Pack clubbed a three-run homer into deep leftfield, tripled and slugged two singles while teammate Bill Daniels had a perfect five for five night to pace East End. Dwain Lacey was the winning hurler.

W. Va. Race Commission Cracks Down On Hiring

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Racing Commission has cracked down on the hiring of personnel at the state's horse tracks and also implemented additional safeguards against practices which could lead to improper operations.

New rules were filed with the Secretary of State to give the commission the tighter controls.

Under the new regulations, virtually all track employes, including stewards and racing secretaries, will be required to obyain annual licenses from the commission.

The tightening of controls was largely a result of a recent controversy between Waterford Park, near Chester, and Hancock County politicians, Chairman Eugene M. Frederick said yesterday.

The president of the park, James Edwards, contended the politicians in the area were attempting to dictate operational policy of the park. Chairman Richard Wright of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee, in turn, demanded a state investigation of the park's hiring practices.

Frederick said the commission's new licensing rule will enable the state agency to keep a constant check on such things as the 80 per cent law.

Jockeys, trainers and other track workers have been licensed for several years. But the new rule even has a "miscellaneous officials and employes" class to include everyone.

Material carried in a Waterford Park program relative to the controversy was labeled by the commission as improper. Frederick said political controversies should not be aired in such a manner.

One of the new rules now on file will enable the commission to take immediate steps to prevent any such action in the future. The rule's broad objective is to safeguard any practice which might lead to fraud or any other improper procedures at state tracks, he said.

Wills Would Like To Sit Out Star Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Dodgers shortstop Maury Wills says he'd like to beg off playing in the All-Star game next Monday in Chicago against the Americans.

"I shouldn't even be in the Dodger line-up right now," said Wills. "My right leg pained me when I played the other All-Star game in Washington, and it has gotten worse. It's taped as high as it can be taped, so I can run, and I've been looking forward to two days' rest, which might help me get over these muscle spasms.

"My position probably will be misunderstood. It's an honor to play, and if Fred Hutchinson asks me I'll tell him how I feel."

Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers says he believes Wills will play at Chicago. Maury stole the first game from the Americans with his baserunning.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

For some reason, Salem is pretty well infected with wild animals to the point where they become a nuisance, to say the least.

Not long ago the Salem police picked up a beaver on Jennings Ave. nibbling at the shrubbery in the yard of a local resident. Another beaver was cornered and captured by mill police while it was ambling around on the cement yard of the Mullins Mfg. Co. plant.

I removed a raccoon from the rafters of the Deming plant in Salem and took another one out of a tree within 200 feet of the old Salem post office, virtually in the heart of the city. More squirrels can be seen in Centennial Park than you will find in any of the wooded sections out in the wilds.

RECENTLY, I have received many complaints about skunks. No one wants to tangle with a skunk, including the local game protector. The point is this: when it reaches the point where either you or the skunk has to go, naturally the woods kitty gets no consideration.

When these little stinkers move in under the porch or find a den in the garage, they usually can be chased away by leaving an electric bulb burning where they enter the den. Skunks are afraid of light and won't re-enter the den. They move on to some other spot.

As a last resort in getting rid of this undesirable "neighbor", you can go after it with a garden hose, ball bat or any other lethal weapon, providing you do not violate any of the city regulations when it comes to firearms.

He can be trapped and destroyed if you prefer when actually doing damage, but he might leave a tell-tale reminder that someone was there other than Kilroy.

IN THE proper environment the polecat can be very beneficial as he goes about his daily feeding habits of eating many grubs, beetles and other undesirable insects.

At the same time he is fond of any kind of eggs, be they those of quail, pheasants, grouse or songbirds. He has even been known to kill and eat a portion of chicken, as they seek fresh blood about the time the young are born.

Mets Knock Leaders Off, E. End Wins

Mets 22 unleashed a vicious hitting attack to knock American Billiards from the top spot in the Slow Pitch League with an overwhelming 11-2 setback Wednesday at the Dixonville Diamond.

In the other contest, East End with Ed Pack hitting tape measure shots again, bested the finishing Mill, 15-9.

Jack Bailey's grand slam home run was the big blow struck for the Mets while Bailey and Mike Mikita had three hits in four trips. R. Crews also homered for the winners. Boley was the winning pitcher. John Fisher tripled and Jack Bair had two hits in three trips for the Billiards.

Pack clubbed a three-run homer into deep leftfield, tripled and slugged two singles while teammate Bill Daniels had a perfect five for five night to pace East End. Dwain Lacey was the winning hurler.

W. Va. Race Commission Cracks Down On Hiring

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Racing Commission has cracked down on the hiring of personnel at the state's horse tracks and also implemented additional safeguards against practices which could lead to improper operations.

New rules were filed with the Secretary of State to give the commission the tighter controls.

Under the new regulations, virtually all track employes, including stewards and racing secretaries, will be required to obyain annual licenses from the commission.

The tightening of controls was largely a result of a recent controversy between Waterford Park, near Chester, and Hancock County politicians, Chairman Eugene M. Frederick said yesterday.

The president of the park, James Edwards, contended the politicians in the area were attempting to dictate operational policy of the park. Chairman Richard Wright of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee, in turn, demanded a state investigation of the park's hiring practices.

State law requires that 80 per cent of the employes at such institutions be West Virginians.

Frederick said the commission's new licensing rule will enable the state agency to keep a constant check on such things as the 80 per cent law.

Jockeys, trainers and other track workers have been licensed for several years. But the new rule even has a "miscellaneous officials and employes" class to include everyone.

Material carried in a Waterford Park program relative to the controversy was labeled by the commission as improper. Frederick said political controversies should not be aired in such a manner.

One of the new rules now on file will enable the commission to take immediate steps to prevent any such action in the future. The rule's broad objective is to safeguard any practice which might lead to fraud or any other improper procedures at state tracks, he said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband believes all humans inhabited the earth in the form of animals in a previous life. I knew about his views when I married him and it never bothered me, but I do feel he should keep these ideas to himself.

Our daughter is quite popular with the young men in town but I'm afraid her father's talk will drive away any serious prospect for marriage. Every time a fellow comes into our home my husband looks him over carefully, decides what kind of animal he was in the last life and then tells him to his face.

One young man has a long, narrow face, reddish hair and pointed ears. My husband told him he was a fox. The fellow hasn't been back since. Another young man who played tackle for the university football team was 6 feet, 4 inches tall, dark, handsome and powerfully built. He walked with a bit of a stoop. My husband informed this chap that he was undoubtedly a gorilla.

According to him I was a squirrel and my mother was a cow. My daughter is very upset over this and so am I. What can we do? — MRS. M.L.

Dears Mrs.: If your husband has held these views for many years it is unlikely that you can change his thinking.

I suggest your daughter tip off the young men in advance. Then her father's pronouncements would come as less of a shock.

P. S.: Has he confided what he was in his previous life? A jackass, perhaps?

Perennial Problem

Dear Ann: Should an employe ask for a raise or should he wait until he gets one?

I had to quit a fine position after seven years to move to another city. My boss hired a replacement (who had no previous experience) for $2 less than my quitting pay. I told him I was mighty hurt. He said as long as I hadn't asked for more money he didn't see any reason to pay me more.

Now I'm in the same boat again. I've had my present job for 18 months. My boss gave me one raise six months ago, from $60 to $64 a week. His business had doubled since I started here and I am his only employe.

Some of my friends take their job lightly, quit on a moment's notice and stay out "sick" whenever they want to sleep late. I am conscientious and loyal. They get constant raises, and I get compliments.

Dear Dumbbunny: I don't encourage asking for raises. An employe who believes he is not being adequately compensated and thinks he can do better elsewhere should leave and prove it.

If you feel underpaid and unappreciated get another job. Then go to your employer and give him notice. If he offers to match your new salary, refuse. The employer who is placed in this position usually feels slightly blackmailed and the situation is seldom very good after that.

Love And Hate

Dear Ann: Is it possible to feel a strong hatred for someone you love?

I love my husband yet there are times when I feel that I hate him because of things he has done to me that aren't right. After I get over the hurt I love him as much as ever.

I read somewhere that if you love a person you love him all the time, and that nothing can ever change that feeling. If this is true then I'm not really in love.

Please set me straight. I am — FOGGED UP.

Dear Fogged: Many conflicting emotions are separated by the breadth of a hair. As laughter and tears can be seconds apart, so it is with love and hate. Only those about whom we feel deeply can evoke strong emotions — so don't feel guilty about transient feelings of hate.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hearing Planned On Road Project At Columbiana

The State Highway Department said today it will conduct a public hearing Tuesday, Aug. 14, at 2 p. m. in Dixon Elementary School at Columbiana to hear arguments for and against a proposed segment of the Ohio River-Lake Erie Highway stretching from a point southwest of Columbiana and crossing into Beaver and Canfield Townships in Mahoning County.

The segment on which the hearing will be held would begin in the centerline of State Route 558 in Columbiana County, south and west of the village of Columbiana and near the junction of County Rd. 788.

The segment is the so-called Columbiana section of the lake-river road, which is being built in stages between East Liverpool and Ashtabula. The segment would pass just west of Columbiana, crossing Route 14 at the county line to enter Mahoning County.

First plans for construction of the Columbiana segment were announced about a year ago by the Highway Department.

Ohio Girl Scouts Give Program In Roundup

After hearing a talk by Jerrie Cobb, 31, first woman trainee for space flights, the Ohio scouts "launched" their own astronaut, Paula Hiner, 15, Rt. 5, Mount Vernon, Ohio, in a dance.

Zanuck Gets Top Film Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Veteran producer Darryl F. Zanuck began his first full day as president of financially ailing 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. today with a call for sweeping reforms to put the firm back in the black.

Zanuck, 59, a Hollywood executive and largest stockholder in 20th Century-Fox, was elected on Wednesday night to succeed Spyros Skouras, effective immediately.

Skouras, 69, announced his pending resignation last June 27 in the wake of bitter criticism by stockholders who saw their investments consistently lose money over the last several years. Skouras was named chairman of the board Wednesday night.

Zanuck started his Hollywood career as a screen writer and later turned to production and executive duties with Warner Brothers before becoming vice president in charge of production at Fox.

Zanuck conceded disastrous losses by the company but appeared convinced Fox was on solid ground in spending a reported $30 million in production of "Cleopatra" with Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton.

"I have no illusions about the present plight of the company," Zanuck said in explaining losses in production and distribution over the last several years.

He said he will soon announce a complete streamlining of Fox methods to bring them in line with radical changes that came about in the industry within the last decade.

Union Files Suit For Vacation Pay

CLEVELAND (AP)—The International United Auto Workers Union and its Local 1260, seeking vacation wages for 114 employes of the Cleveland Malleable Corp., have filed suit in U.S. District Court.

The workers have been on strike since May 8. They walked out after refusing a demand from the company that they accept a pay cut of 15 cents an hour.

John H. Ober, attorney for the union, said the vacation pay would amount to about $20,000. It was due June 1, according to the union.

The petition, filed Wednesday, say the UAW has had a collective bargaining contract with the company since April 29, 1960, and that it continued in force when negotiations failed at the expiration date last April 29.

The Internal Revenue Service seized the plant at 5000 Lakeside Ave. NE Friday on a lien for $480,499 in income and withholding taxes against the Lake City Malleable Co. owner of the building.

No Progress Made In Kobuta Strike Talk

No progress was reported in talks Tuesday at Pittsburgh between the Koppers Co. and Local 8-74, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers with state and federal mediators sitting in.

The mediators recessed the meeting and said they would get in touch with both sides later to set up new talks in an effort to end the long strike at the Kobuta plant. Negotiations had been resumed after a meeting held last week.

About 615 employes went on strike midnight April 30 when their contract expired.

Chester Masons Set Family Picnic Aug. 18

A program of entertainment for children, including games and contests, is being arranged. Members discussed work projects for the coming months.

Drivers Unhurt In Auto Mishaps

Three area drivers escaped injury in two highway mishaps in the Wellsville area Wednesday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

The 1952 sedan of William E. Wright, 25, of Route 39 near Wellsville went off the right side of Fife Coal Rd. about 2.5 miles south of Route 45 at 10:30 p. m. as he approached a small bridge. Damage was minor, officers said.

A 1960 station wagon operated by Samuel Allison, 59, of Salineville R. D. 1 swerved to the left on Route 39 yesterday morning just as a 1958 truck operated by James Alfred Knight, 36, of Salineville R. D. 2 began to pass, and the two vehicles collided.

Both vehicles were headed south, according to the patrol, which reported damage was minor.

Trucker Sees 2 Men Flee From Drive-in

A bread truck driver reported to the sheriff's office at 5:25 a. m. today that he saw two men run from the Super-30 Drive-in Theater as he approached.

Deputies hurried to the Route 30 drive-in north of East Liverpool and still were hunting the pair at mid-morning. First reports indicated an attempted burglary.

Chief Deputy Sheriff James Miller is continuing an investigation of burglaries Saturday and Sunday night at the Potters Lumber Co. at Calcutta. He said he has been unable to get any leads.

Thieves got over $400 worth of stamps and envelopes from the branch post office in the Potters Lumber Saturday night. Burglars got in again Sunday and stole a quantity of hardware items and damaged the safe.

Jailed Man's Hearing Set On 2 Complaints

NEW CUMBERLAND — Everett Thomas Allen of New Cumberland was jailed in default of a bond at a hearing before Squire John D. Herron Wednesday night on charges of assault and battery and damaging and destroying property.

A New Cumberland juvenile involved in the assault was turned over to his parents and is to appear before juvenile authorities.

War Site Visited By Hero's Family

WILSBACH, Germany (AP) — The family and relatives of war hero Dominic V. Spinelli visited this little village Wednesday to see the spot where the young soldier was killed during World War II.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan V. Spinelli, and their daughter, Mariangela, of Hamilton, Ohio, and two uncles, an aunt and four cousins were brought to Germany by the U.S. Army to take part in a memorial service at an Army installation named for the hero.

Spinelli was killed April 14, 1945, while trying to rescue four other soldiers. Wednesday the family looked at the peaceful looking sugar beet field where 17 years ago German machinegun bullets cut down the young medic.

Friday the entire family is to fly to Italy for a reunion on Italian soil, from where Dan Spinelli and his wife, Esther, emigrated to the United States more than 50 years ago.

TV Actor And Wife Get Divorce Decrees

Court aides said the double decree, granted Wednesday in Superior Court, is common in cases where evidence is about equal.

The Megowans married Jan. 4, 1947, and separated Sept. 9, 1961.

Drivers Unhurt In Auto Mishaps

Three area drivers escaped injury in two highway mishaps in the Wellsville area Wednesday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

The 1952 sedan of William E. Wright, 25, of Route 39 near Wellsville went off the right side of Fife Coal Rd. about 2.5 miles south of Route 45 at 10:30 p. m. as he approached a small bridge. Damage was minor, officers said.

A 1960 station wagon operated by Samuel Allison, 59, of Salineville R. D. 1 swerved to the left on Route 39 yesterday morning just as a 1958 truck operated by James Alfred Knight, 36, of Salineville R. D. 2 began to pass, and the two vehicles collided.

Both vehicles were headed south, according to the patrol, which reported damage was minor.

Trucker Sees 2 Men Flee From Drive-in

A bread truck driver reported to the sheriff's office at 5:25 a. m. today that he saw two men run from the Super-30 Drive-in Theater as he approached.

Deputies hurried to the Route 30 drive-in north of East Liverpool and still were hunting the pair at mid-morning. First reports indicated an attempted burglary.

Chief Deputy Sheriff James Miller is continuing an investigation of burglaries Saturday and Sunday night at the Potters Lumber Co. at Calcutta. He said he has been unable to get any leads.

Thieves got over $400 worth of stamps and envelopes from the branch post office in the Potters Lumber Saturday night. Burglars got in again Sunday and stole a quantity of hardware items and damaged the safe.

Jailed Man's Hearing Set On 2 Complaints

NEW CUMBERLAND — Everett Thomas Allen of New Cumberland was jailed in default of a bond at a hearing before Squire John D. Herron Wednesday night on charges of assault and battery and damaging and destroying property.

A New Cumberland juvenile involved in the assault was turned over to his parents and is to appear before juvenile authorities.

War Site Visited By Hero's Family

WILSBACH, Germany (AP) — The family and relatives of war hero Dominic V. Spinelli visited this little village Wednesday to see the spot where the young soldier was killed during World War II.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan V. Spinelli, and their daughter, Mariangela, of Hamilton, Ohio, and two uncles, an aunt and four cousins were brought to Germany by the U.S. Army to take part in a memorial service at an Army installation named for the hero.

Spinelli was killed April 14, 1945, while trying to rescue four other soldiers. Wednesday the family looked at the peaceful looking sugar beet field where 17 years ago German machinegun bullets cut down the young medic.

Friday the entire family is to fly to Italy for a reunion on Italian soil, from where Dan Spinelli and his wife, Esther, emigrated to the United States more than 50 years ago.

TV Actor And Wife Get Divorce Decrees

Court aides said the double decree, granted Wednesday in Superior Court, is common in cases where evidence is about equal.

Mrs. Megowan, also 39, charged that her husband was too friendly with French actress Denise Darcel.

The Megowans married Jan. 4, 1947, and separated Sept. 9, 1961.

Nine of the 50 U. S. states do not impose capital punishment for first-degree murder. These are Alaska, Delaware, Hawaii, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Rhode Island and Wisconsin.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Equal Time For Heartfelt

"Put away your ointments, Gill, and your Monopoly board. I should like to settle with you the question of the TV debates of the 1964 presidential campaign."

Alan Gill

Bill Hartfelt was grinning at us from under the beach umbrella. He slapped the sand from the likeness of Ludwig von Beethoven which decorated his sweatshirt front, stepped across the sandpiper trap we had set, and lay down in the man-sized grave my small son had been digging in the sand. "Bury me, boy," he said heartily. "My sunburn has done me in."

"What's the question?" I asked.

"IT IS," Hartfelt told me, peering over the lip of his grave, "two-fold. Should the networks be allowed—as they were during the Kennedy-Nixon debates of 1960, to chuck the equal-time rule and cover the campaigns as their own editorial consciences dictate? And: Should the presidential debate be a compulsory thing, with certain built-in rules and regulations?"

"Well," I began, "my own feelings in the mat—"

"Dash it all, Gill," Hartfeld roared, "you'll get your equal-time when the buzzer sounds. Let me elaborate.

"Until the Kennedy-Nixon debates, the networks were required by law to offer air time to all minority parties. As a result, we heard the campaign songs and promises of such groups as the Free Silverites, the Brass Monkeys, the Know-It-Alls, the Conundrums, and the Whig Wobblies. It was pretty silly.

"Not that the idea behind the law was silly. It's only fair play to give the little guy a chance to have his say along with those human soundtrucks who run on the majority tickets. But the fact is, 99 out of 100 minority political groups are bloody bores and only serve to clutter up the airwaves. Leave it all, I say, to the discretion of the networks themselves. Equal-time should be abolished or modified, with a reminder to the TV people that we're watching them closely."

THE SAND was mounding up over Hartfelt's body like a scene from "The Lost Patrol," but the corpse spoke on.

"Now to the matter of the debates. Somebody out there has been paid by the Fund for the Republic for the suggestion that Congress draw up a law that would force the networks to grant free time for the debates—not more than five or less than three "encounters,' as they like to call them.

"If one of the candidates reneges, then his time is forfeited and goes to the opposition party. In effect, these fellows are suggesting compulsory debate upon the candidates.

"Well, I think that's wrong, even though televised debate is our best potential method of getting to know the men and the issues. But why should a good candidate who can't remember a statistic for five minutes be forced to get up there and debate with a walking file cabinet?

"STATISTICS and good looks —they're the ingredients of political debate these days.

"Where do you think Barry Goldwater would be now if he looked like Red Buttons? What if Adlai Stevenson were the William Holden type, or Cardinal Spellman resembled Walter Hampden, or Jack Kennedy had the face of Ernest Borgnine?

"The day we have compulsory debate is the day we get Charlton Heston in the White House. I feel that—ulp!"

I had gestured a go-ahead to my son, who had thereupon completed the job of burial. In the silence that ensued, I proceeded to give my own views on an issue as complex as that of Quemoy and Matsu.

ECONOMICS? On television? CBS News will have the fortitude and gumption to stare down the yawners, coughers, and channel hoppers next month when it presents a seminar on the major economic problems facing the United States.

During the week of Aug. 20, the network will set aside a half hour each night, taking the pulse of the American economy. The series, "Where Do We Go From Here?," will be in the good care of David Schoenbrun, with Prof. John R. Coleman of Carnegie Institute as resident essayist.

Economic experts will be asked to explain, discuss, and predict. A brave man named Perry Wolff —he produced the White House tour special—will produce these five programs too.

Ravenna Child Found Dead In Refrigerator

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—An 8-year-old girl was found smothered to death in a refrigerator stored in the basement of her home in Streetsboro late Wednesday.

The victim was Theresa Stebner, one of 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stebner. The father found her body when she failed to appear for dinner.

Board To File Merger Vote

The Beaver County Board of Education at Beaver Tuesday night agreed to submit the question of a merger of the Harmony Township and Ambridge school districts on the November ballot.

The board authorized revisions of plans of the Hopewell Senior High School to include improvements to athletic facilities.

Much of the board's time was spent considering the special education classes for handicapped children. Two teachers hired for the classes are Donald Lordi of Ellwood City, for Marion Township elementary building, and Mrs. Madeline Schleiger of Rochester for the Ridge Rd. School in Baden-Economy district.

The board also hired several persons to pack and distribute supplies for the special classes. Edgar Temple and William Maples, both of Aliquippa, were hired as drivers of the district - owned buses which provide transportation for pupils of the classes. Cost of the classes during July has been $11,771.

A school for bus drivers was set for Oct. 15 with the place to be announced. The school had been set for Sept. 4, which conflicts with teachers' meetings.

You Can Have A Honey Of A Figure

Teens and preteens, tune in: You inherit your frame and the tendency to be short or tall. When you add padding, the fatty deposits go on in the family pattern. You've been framed? Oh, no — only excess food goes into fat! And bulges stem from a lack of exercise.

Ida Jean Kain

Regard exercise as the magic by which you can have a honey of a figure. Tackle stretch-bends-swings with enthusiasm. The more enthusiasm, the more success, the more fun — the more fun, the more success, the more enthusiasm! Get with it!

To get a lift, turn on the music. But swing to your own lyrics. You want a neat, sweet waist. All right, s-t-r-e-t-c-h, centering the stretch through the middle, chanting "Stretching makes for a will-owy waist." Pull slim—hold.

Follow through with a side-bend, and as you bend get the word-picture — slim, supple, lissome. Bend to the other side and hold—chanting lithe, limber, lovely. You can have what you want and picture.

Hit a rhythm, swing-to-slim-the-derriere. Change sides and swing again. Then make circles, wide circles from the hip with the top leg. Swinging can help swinging take it off! "Slim down a size...swinging the thighs." Swing in a circle, 12 counts in one direction, 12 in another. Change sides...and swing and circle.

Have a ball with this roller-offer: Sitting on floor, legs straight out, lean back to bring weight to bear on bustle of muscle. Use palms of hands as a push and a brake as you r-o-l-l slowly and heavily across the hip spread. "Roll off the bustle, you'll have a barrel of fun."

Finish your swing session with a drum majorette routine. Be a high stepper ... lifting alternate knees high as both arms are stretched upwards. A five minute parade daily can turn you into a living doll!

$3,447 Asked By Ex-Sheriff

Four Hancock Countians have been served as defendants in a civil action filed by Clayton H. Hobbs of Chester R. D. 1, ex-county sheriff.

Hobbs seeks $3,447.95 in salary and commissions he contends is owed him by County Court from service as sheriff from 1957-60.

The defendants are William C. Graham, Lyle Virden and James Finley, present county commissioners, Dave N. Thomas, former commissioner, and James F. Hill of Chester R. D. 1, ex - sheriff whom Hobbs succeeded.

The sheriff's office has served summonses on all but Thomas, who is vacationing in Russia, and all have filed affidavits of defense within the 20 days allowed under rules of Judge Ralph E. Pryor of Circuit Court.

Hobbs' petition says "he earned and was entitled as sheriff to a salary and commissions of $11,695.90 and commissioners were obligated to pay this amount from county funds.

"During 1957, the plaintiff received $8,247.95 from County Court and is therefore entitled to $3,447.95, due July 23, 1957, which was not paid despite proper demand."

Hobbs contends Hill received the $3,447.95 on that date under an agreement with county commissioners.

Pughtown Man Designated Hancock 'Farmer Of Year'

Campbell S. Herron of Frankford Rd., Pughtown has been named Hancock County's "Conservation Farmer of the Year."

Operator of a 90 - acre dairy farm, he was honored by the Northern Panhandle Soil Conservation District for oustanding practices in contour strip farming and contour cultivation.

Herron moved to the farm 28 years ago when its productivity was virtually "zero," according to Encil Brohard, soil conservationist for Hancock and Brooke Counties.

Through consistent liming and fertilizing practices and conservation, Herron built up the soil to its present high productivity, the conservationist said.

In addition, his farm will be entered in competition with others in Brooke, Ohio and Marshal Counties to determine a Northern Panhandle winner. Ultimately, a West Virginia winner will be named.

Herron and his wife will also receive an expense-paid trip to Jackson's Mill for a conservation meeting, Brohard said.

The couple has two sons, Charles Robert Herron of Glenmoor and Donald Herron of Carrollton, and two daughters, Mrs. Sara Sutko of Orlando, Fla., and Miss Mary Lou Herron of Columbus.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Equal Time For Heartfelt

"Put away your ointments, Gill, and your Monopoly board. I should like to settle with you the question of the TV debates of the 1964 presidential campaign."

Alan Gill

Bill Hartfelt was grinning at us from under the beach umbrella. He slapped the sand from the likeness of Ludwig von Beethoven which decorated his sweatshirt front, stepped across the sandpiper trap we had set, and lay down in the man-sized grave my small son had been digging in the sand. "Bury me, boy," he said heartily. "My sunburn has done me in."

"What's the question?" I asked.

"IT IS," Hartfelt told me, peering over the lip of his grave, "two-fold. Should the networks be allowed—as they were during the Kennedy-Nixon debates of 1960, to chuck the equal-time rule and cover the campaigns as their own editorial consciences dictate? And: Should the presidential debate be a compulsory thing, with certain built-in rules and regulations?"

"Well," I began, "my own feelings in the mat—"

"Dash it all, Gill," Hartfeld roared, "you'll get your equal-time when the buzzer sounds. Let me elaborate.

"Until the Kennedy-Nixon debates, the networks were required by law to offer air time to all minority parties. As a result, we heard the campaign songs and promises of such groups as the Free Silverites, the Brass Monkeys, the Know-It-Alls, the Conundrums, and the Whig Wobblies. It was pretty silly.

"Not that the idea behind the law was silly. It's only fair play to give the little guy a chance to have his say along with those human soundtrucks who run on the majority tickets. But the fact is, 99 out of 100 minority political groups are bloody bores and only serve to clutter up the airwaves. Leave it all, I say, to the discretion of the networks themselves. Equal-time should be abolished or modified, with a reminder to the TV people that we're watching them closely."

THE SAND was mounding up over Hartfelt's body like a scene from "The Lost Patrol," but the corpse spoke on.

"Now to the matter of the debates. Somebody out there has been paid by the Fund for the Republic for the suggestion that Congress draw up a law that would force the networks to grant free time for the debates—not more than five or less than three "encounters,' as they like to call them.

"If one of the candidates reneges, then his time is forfeited and goes to the opposition party. In effect, these fellows are suggesting compulsory debate upon the candidates.

"Well, I think that's wrong, even though televised debate is our best potential method of getting to know the men and the issues. But why should a good candidate who can't remember a statistic for five minutes be forced to get up there and debate with a walking file cabinet?

"STATISTICS and good looks —they're the ingredients of political debate these days.

"Where do you think Barry Goldwater would be now if he looked like Red Buttons? What if Adlai Stevenson were the William Holden type, or Cardinal Spellman resembled Walter Hampden, or Jack Kennedy had the face of Ernest Borgnine?

"The day we have compulsory debate is the day we get Charlton Heston in the White House. I feel that—ulp!"

I had gestured a go-ahead to my son, who had thereupon completed the job of burial. In the silence that ensued, I proceeded to give my own views on an issue as complex as that of Quemoy and Matsu.

ECONOMICS? On television? CBS News will have the fortitude and gumption to stare down the yawners, coughers, and channel hoppers next month when it presents a seminar on the major economic problems facing the United States.

During the week of Aug. 20, the network will set aside a half hour each night, taking the pulse of the American economy. The series, "Where Do We Go From Here?," will be in the good care of David Schoenbrun, with Prof. John R. Coleman of Carnegie Institute as resident essayist.

Economic experts will be asked to explain, discuss, and predict. A brave man named Perry Wolff —he produced the White House tour special—will produce these five programs too.

Junior Editors Quiz on MUSIC

QUESTION: Are there other scales besides the minor and major ones?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: A musical scale is an arrangement of notes in steps going up and down, like a ladder. Since ancient days, people have used many different scales. Our picture shows the general arrangement of the main tones in a Chinese scale, even if the Chinese don't write them down the way we have here. The Greeks studied music carefully and worked out ways to note it down. The Greek system was based on the strings of the lyre, and consisted of various arrangements of four notes, called "tetrachords," one of which we show. The Greeks finally put two tetrachords together and this led to the modern scale of eight notes, the "octave." Our modern major and minor scales are different selections of eight notes each. Actually, however, there are twelve different notes on the piano keyboard in an octave. Some modern composers use all of these in a "12-note scale," and there is a "whole-tone" scale in which there are no "half-steps." To many of us, these modern scales sound even stranger than Chinese music. Some day we may get used to them.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask someone who reads notes to play on a piano that first group of five, the "pentatonic" scale.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: If anyone can come up with a solution as to how to get boys (and girls too at times) of all ages to pick up toys and clothes without nagging, bribing or beating . . . then I suggest that they be knighted!

One trick I tried for boys of a certain sport-happy age is getting them to put dirty socks and such in a container, instead of under the bed and under the kitchen bread drawer, was to make a simulated basketball hoop. Sew a detachable bag for the "basket" and anchor it high on the wall. Great sport. . .

Anytime you have more than one boy in a room, something is going to be thrown! It might as well be a pair of socks tied together instead of a pillow.

Now all I have to do is empty the basket.

Here's another trick that works when your little darling climbs on the roof or the top of a precarious tree. Instead of screaming and scaring him into falling, march out with a switch and say firmly: "You get down from there right now and if you dare to fall I will give you a good switching!" It works like a charm. After he is down, you can return to the house and faint dead away.

MRS. E. RUTHERFORD

Basketball hoops can be made out of two wire coat hangers bent round, and the hooks bent to hang on a nail on the wall. The baskets can be stitched from real basket ball net, matching drapery material or an old bed sheet. It hooks to the "hoop" with dime store drapery hooks, detachable for easy emptying. Also, the net string sacks that potatoes come in are a good substitute.

HELOISE

Likes Idea

Dear Heloise: Your suggestion to use nylon net for dishcloths works so well (it scours without being abrasive) that I decided to use some net on my wet mops.

I tied small pieces of nylon net to the heel of the mop, which gets most of the pressure, to remove stuck-on spills and spatters.

Logic tells me that this must remove some of the wax too but as yet . . . I haven't noticed any dull spots because of it.

A dime will fit most small screws, a quarter fits the larger ones . . . if you can't locate the screw driver. And so help me, I never can!

MRS. J. B. B.

Question Of Grease

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to bring this to the housewife's attention. When cleaning grease off equipment, the first thing to think about is how much grease is on the equipment, how long has it been there, and has it been baked? Grease is accumulated by layers. Do you have one coat of grease or eight coats of grease?

When women get a coat of grease on something and allow it to stay on the surface from day to day . . . and keep baking and using the item, the grease becomes carbon, which in turn becomes baked on. It should be taken off the same way it was put on, layer by layer.

Youth Faces Hearing In Fatal Auto Wreck

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A charge of second degree manslaughter has been filed by the highway patrol against Gary L. Hughes, 18, of Route 2, Bluffton, one of the drivers involved in a traffic crash which killed four persons July 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Stalnaker of Lima, Allen E. Rundio of Lima and John P. Bowers of near Bluffton were killed in a crash between cars driven by Hughes and Stalnaker at an intersection on U.S. 30N and a county road near here.

Firemen Sign 4 At LaCroft

Four new members were admitted as second class firemen at a meeting of the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department Wednesday night in the LaCroft station.

It was reported the departments's radio committee will meet tonight with Liverpool Township trustees at the East station in Dixonville to discuss purchase of a two-way radio system for both departments. West firemen have had a radio system four years, leased out of the department's own funds, but the East department does not have radio communication.

The proposal calls for trustees to acquire a radio system, paying the cost out of a fire levy.

It was reported the West department has installed dry powder extinguishers on the emergency truck and the tank truck. The two extinguishers cost a total of $30. Reid Densmore, president, presided.

The emergency truck will participate in the Highlandtown firemen's parade Friday night. Eight firemen will attend a fire training school Saturday at Glenmoor.

The West department will be host to the Tri-State Firemen's Association at a meeting Wednesday, Aug. 29. The department voted to change its regular business meetings to alternate Wednesdays. Meetings formerly were held on the last Wednesday of each month. The next regular session will be Aug. 8.
